Retired National Guard leader heads airport board

BY DAN HILDEBRAN
Dan@BcTelegraph.com

The retired leader of the Florida National Guard was elected by his colleagues on the Keystone Heights Airport board to chair the airport's governing board during the board's May 6 meeting.

Maj. Gen. James O. Eifert relinquished command of the 12,000-member force in April 2023. He retired after over four decades of military service and four years as the state's highest-ranking military official.

Outgoing airport board chair David Kirkland nominated Eifert to take over for him. He told his fellow board members last year that he did not plan to reapply for his board seat once his current term ends in 2026.

"I've been on the board since '09," he said. "I've been chairman since '14 and I am ready to pass the torch."

The board also elected David Dagenais as vice chair.

Keystone business group told FPL is celebrating 100 years

BY DAN HILDEBRAN
Dan@BcTelegraph.com

The north Florida external affairs manager for Florida Power and Light told a Clay chamber group meeting in Keystone Heights that her utility is celebrating its 100th anniversary.

During the chamber's May 22 meeting of the Lake Region Prosperity Partners at the Keystone Beach Pavilion, Carol Saviak also discussed FPL's efforts to increase its resiliency, including the installation of more underground lines and the hardening of infrastructure against tropical cyclones.

Saviak highlighted FPL's economic development group, which she said helps attract new employers to the Sunshine State.

She said her utility played a role in bringing Niagara Bottling to Clay County several years ago, even though the water bottling company is not an FPL customer.

KH fast-tracking food truck rules

BY DAN HILDEBRAN
Dan@BcTelegraph.com

The Keystone Heights City Council is bypassing its planning and zoning board to fast-track food truck rules in time for summer.

Council members met on May 19 for a workshop on the topic and agreed to model their ordinance on an existing one in Green Cove Springs.

Executive Assistant and Event Coordinator Drew Bell told council members she researched existing food truck regulations in Green Cove, Orange Park, Palatka, and Gainesville. Bell said the Green Cove Springs ordinance offered several advantages, like offering a different application process for individual vendors, property owners, and trucks coming into town for special events.

Usually, an ordinance regulating food trucks would go through the city's planning and zoning board. However, council members, based on the recommendation of City Attorney Rich Komando, agreed to bypass the board and allow Komando and Bell to draft a proposed ordinance for a first reading on June 9. The next meeting of the planning and zoning board is on June 19.

SOLO members discuss Black Creek and Geneva projects

The Black Creek Water Resource Development Project's treatment facility at Camp Blanding, under construction.

BY JENN SAMSEL
Special to the Monitor

Save Our Lakes members gathered for their May meeting on Tuesday, May 13, at the First Baptist Church in Keystone Heights.

President Vivian Katz-James provided updates on the St. Johns River Water Management District's Black Creek Water Resource Development Project and Clay County's efforts to remove trees and underbrush from the dry lakebed of Lake Geneva.

She said work on the Black Creek project is now focused on the project's water treatment facility within Camp Blanding. The facility comprises six cells that filter out the dark tannins from the creek before the water is released into Alligator Creek and onto Lake Brooklyn.

"The first cell is complete, tested, and ready to operate," she said. "Cell 2 is currently undergoing testing, and Cell 3 is expected to be completed by the end of the month." All six cells will be fully operational, and everything is set to function by January 2026. Three cells will be in operation at all times."

The Save Our Lakes president added that the Clay County project has cleared the permitting process.

"We got the permit last April for cutting down the trees for Lake Geneva," she told her membership. "It had a 21-day public notice period that ended May 1. We are now good to go."

Currently, a few companies are submitting bids for tree removal. Once the county accepts a company's proposal, the tree removal will take two to five weeks.

Board member Scott Slater added that the project should begin in July. Surveyors will determine which trees are under the state's jurisdiction and mark them for removal.

In April, a work party with over 37 volunteers removed 1.5 tons of debris from the area of the county's Fifth Street Boat Ramp.

Items removed included an engine block, tires, rims, concrete, trash, and plywood, among other various types of material.

For $40 per signup, teens and adults can learn how to make sourdough bread in a June 6 workshop at 11 a.m. Prepayment is required.

All ages are invited to the library's new Makerspace on June 10 to make butterfly houses. Contact the library to reserve a timeslot. When you do, reserve a seat for the next day to make a card for Father's Day.

Kids 0-12 will enjoy card tricks, disappearing acts and more at the Dadian Magic Show on June 12 at 11 a.m. Teens can come June 13 at 1 p.m. to learn how to make boba tea and a cute keychain.

Ages 10-18 can come meet animals — this time reptiles, courtesy of Santa Fe Teaching Zoo — on June 17 at 10 a.m.

Children's Book Bingo for kids 6-12 will take place at 11 a.m. on June 18. A mobile gaming truck will be on site for ages 6-14 on June 20 at 11 a.m.

One of the summer highlights will be an opportunity for teens and adults to meet Jay Woody from "The Walking Dead" and "Stranger Things" and learn all about zombie special effects and makeup. That takes place at 2 p.m. on June 24.

June will finish up with a petting zoo and pony rides on June 26 at 11 a.m. for kids 0-12, and pop socket craft for teens on June 27 at 1 p.m.

While at any of these events, you can also pick up a calendar for July, which will feature more books, and crafts and animals and magic — all culminating in the End of Summer Bash, a water program for kids 0-12 on July 31 at 11 a.m.

The library recently announced new hours, which are Mondays from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., Wednesdays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Fridays and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The library will be closed for lunch on Saturdays, however, from 12 to 1 p.m.

REVELATION CHURCH

In our last lesson we discussed what the scripture says about the New Birth or being Born-Again. We discussed the Biblical fact that every man is rotten in his heart and separated from God. Our golden text is found in 2 Corinthians 5:17 "Therefore if any man (person) be in Christ, he is a new creature (creation), old things are passed away, behold all things have become new." Here in this verse Paul is speaking about the spirit of man being reborn. A person should know without a doubt if they're truly born-again or not. We'll take a look at a few Bible evidences of the New Birth. First, you will be changed within the depth of your being. The "inward man", the spirit of man will be changed and made a new creation. Now if you've never been changed like this in the very depth of your being, in your spirit man, then it is certain that you have never been born-again. Secondly, you will have the witness of the Holy Spirit in your life that you are indeed a child of God. Romans 8:16 the Bible says, "The Spirit Himself (Holy Spirit) bears witness with our spirits that we are the children of God." If the Holy Spirit really lives inside of your spirit you will know it. Thirdly, you will be free from the guilt and condemnation of sin and you'll have a desire to live and walk in the Spirit.

Romans 6:12-13 says "Let not sin reign in your mortal body that you should obey it in its lusts. And do not present your members as instruments of unrighteousness to sin but present yourselves to God as being alive from the dead and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God."

In verse 18 we read "Being then made free from sin, you have become the servants of righteousness." If you are truly "saved", born-again and are "in Christ" then you will have a desire to serve God, to please God and to really know Him and develop an intimate relationship with Him. The Bible tells us in 1 John 5:18, "Whoever is born of God (born-again) does not commit sin but whoever is born of God keeps himself and the wicked one (Satan) doesn't touch him." For the person who is truly born-again, Galatians 5:24 says "Those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires." Many people, including Christians are quick to say, "don't judge me", but Paul said "many sleep (die) and are weak" because they would not judge themselves. Galatians 5:24 is a wonderful verse to ask yourself daily, "am I fulfilling this verse in my life?"

By now you should know without a doubt whether you are born-again or not. If you're not sure then you are not saved and you are not ready for heaven or the return of Jesus Christ. My prayer is that you'll get ready right now. Get ready, get ready, get ready!!!! Make Jesus your Lord today. JESUS IS COMING SOON!

God bless!

Pastor Rick Norman

Paramedicine program provides 1-year report card

Medically assisted treatment launched

BY MARK J. CRAWFORD
mark@bctelegraph.com

At the May 6 meeting of the Bradford County Commission, Lt. David Weeks of Bradford County Fire Rescue provided an in-depth update on the county's Community Paramedicine Program.

The initiative, launched with funding from opioid lawsuit settlements, aims to reduce emergency room visits, improve chronic disease management, and combat substance abuse through mobile, proactive care and support services.

"It's been a very busy year. It's flown by, and we've made a lot of progress, and I'm happy with where we're at," Weeks told commissioners.

Weeks had personally responded to 302 calls for service — patients in need of a growing number of services. The scope of the program continues to grow to meet new needs such as diabetes and blood pressure monitoring, assisting with wound care and transportation, and helping patients communicate with providers through telehealth.

Helping patients with chronic disease management reduces trips to the emergency room. Weeks said they redirected more than 50 ER trips during the year to alternative care. This included 28 telehealth consultations.

One case involved an elderly man with severe diabetes, living alone without running water, electricity or adequate food. He was noncompliant with his medications. All of this resulted in him calling 911 eight times in three months.

The Community Paramedicine Program got him out of the unsanitary and unsafe conditions he was living in to temporary housing with the help of Elder Options and the Department of Children and Families. Suwannee River Economic Council was able to provide food. Dr. Matthew Odom, the county's medical director, provided the needed prescriptions through a telehealth visit. Through further work with social services, the program got the patient placed in an assisted living facility.

Weeks even met the patient at the DMV and helped him through the process of obtaining proper identification, and then they assisted with the paperwork necessary to reinstate his health insurance.

Weeks discussed the popular Matter of Balance courses that train people in fall prevention. The paramedicine program also performs in-home fall assessments and works with local church group volunteers on improving accessibility, installing or replacing wheelchair ramps and making other home modifications. Patients are connected with rehabilitation services when needed.

The founding reason for the Community Paramedicine Program and the source of its funding is treating substance abuse and reducing drug overdoses. Five publicly accessible Naloxone cabinets are always stocked around the county, and the team has also held community training courses for the use of Narcan to prevent overdoses. They've also educated the public at multiple events. Weeks said 500 Narcan boxes and 125 Narcan kits have been distributed.

Here Weeks shared the story of the of their first substance abuse patient, a 34-year-old man referred to the paramedicine program following an overdose. The team connected him to a primary care physician (his first visit in 10 years), reestablished his insurance and his medically assisted addiction treatment and helped him pursue a job through CareerSource. They even helped him reconnect with his family so he could begin repairing those relationships. And when he moved to Alachua County, they placed him in contact with the paramedicine program there to ensure continuity of care.

According to Weeks, the

Recovering after fire

Friends of Kelly Johnson have set a fundraising goal of $50,000 to help her after she recently lost her home in a fire. Colleagues at Hope Christian Academy, where Johnson works in the front office, are also spreading the word. The GoFundMe page — Help Kelly Rebuild After Fire Loss — can be found at <https://bit.ly/4dzQ2Qo>.

Bradford program has graduated to medically assisted treatment for those with substance abuse disorder.

"This is kind of the next thing in community paramedicine. If you look around the other counties, everybody's starting to do it, because the science and the stats are there that this is really what makes a difference for these patients," he said.

Patients can refer themselves or be referred by a medical provider, a family member or a friend, etc. A meeting with the patient determines eligibility. Once that is established, treatment begins.

"I can tell you our first patient that we treated in the program we met at his residence using our Mobile Health Unit, the bookmobile that we've renovated," Weeks said.

For addicts experiencing withdrawal symptoms from abstinence, medication assistance can help keep them from relapsing. Doses take place every day according to a set schedule, with vitals checked before and after treatment. Treatment consists of Suboxone via a sublingual film placed under the tongue. Patients are observed for adverse reactions or determine if another dose is needed.

From the very first dose, patients are also set up for treatment for behavioral health with Meridian as well as a primary care provider such as Palms Medical or the health department. Willingness to participate on outpatient recovery is a requirement of the medically assisted treatment program.

"The person really has to be willing to get help, and they have to want to be able to heal," Weeks said.

Weeks previewed upcoming initiatives, including integration with CarePortal. Sometimes funding the program taps for problems like utility payment assistance runs out. With CarePortal, verified needs can be placed online where registered churches and other organizations can offer to meet those needs directly.

Another goal is the addition of a social worker or case manager who can help keep pace with growing demand.

"As the program builds, we're bringing on more and more patients, and I want to make sure that we're able to keep up and continue to provide that good level of care that we've come to see," Week said.

Part of the expansion will be within the medically assisted treatment program as word spreads about its availability.

"I'm very happy with where we're at. I think we've made great progress in just a year and I'm very excited about this next year. We've got some big things planned," he said.

In addition to local public awareness efforts, the team is also sharing the community paramedicine message at events like the Biannual Rural Mental Health and Substance Abuse Panel. Later this year, they have been invited to present at the Regional Drug Epidemiology Network.

'We cannot do this life alone' Memorial Day in Keystone Heights

KHHS graduates say goodbye

BY DAN HILDEBRAN
dan@bctelegraph.com

The Keystone Heights High School Class of 2025 celebrated its departure from the campus it had called home since the seventh grade while paying tribute to a classmate they lost last year.

Class President Melanie Crabtree told her classmates they were ending one chapter in their lives and beginning another.

She advised her classmates to look back fondly on the good memories they made during high school and on the silly and foolish pranks they pulled on campus.

"We want to be able to look back and remember the silly things we did and how far we've come and how much we've grown," she said. "That is called maturity. Learning from something dumb and becoming better because of it."

Three salutatorians

Keystone's Class of 2025 had three salutatorians: Tristan Dukes, Michael Golden, and Emily Weiner. Each presented an address to the graduates.

Dukes said high school wasn't about just textbooks and tests.

"It was about growth," he said, "about discovering who we are. We faced challenges we didn't expect, from tough exams to uncertain times, and yet here we are, stronger and wiser."

Golden proclaimed that each of his classmates was a star.

"Right now, you are shining brightly, and you'll shine even brighter in the future as you grow and pursue your goals," he said. "Currently we are here together as one big constellation, but now our paths will diverge as we go live our own lives. However, I know that our paths will converge again someday. Whether it's seeing each other walking by on the sidewalk, working together at a company, or hanging out at the park. We will meet again. So, when the day where we meet again comes, let us meet again as stars."

Weiner advised her classmates to appreciate each relationship in their lives.

"Upholding your relationships is one of the most important things you can do in your life," she said, "and I'm sure every person here who has made it past graduation can attest to that."

Be Great

Valedictorian Curran Capper said the Class of 2025 should appreciate the little things in life and embrace their imperfections.

He also exhorted his classmates to aim high.

"Be great," he declared. "The world doesn't need good people. It needs great people. Greatness lives inside all of us. Everyone has a passion, a faith, a reason to be great. So do whatever it is that makes you great because that's who we are. Work hard, achieve your dreams, and live for success."

Parents of deceased student accept diploma

Before giving the commencement message, Principal Laurie Burke presented a diploma to the parents of Ayden Graff.

Graff was killed in a September 1 traffic crash in Gainesville. He also attended Santa Fe College.

Also killed as a result of the head-on collision was 17-year-old Calin Coates, a senior at Q.I. Roberts Junior-Senior High School in Putnam County.

Burke told the audience that Graff was a classmate, a friend, and a part of the senior class's hearts.

"Though his time with us was cut far too short," Burke said, "the impact he made will never be forgotten. As we celebrate this milestone, we carry Ayden in our hearts, knowing that he will always be a part of the class of 2025."

Surround yourself

In her message, Burke, like Weiner, emphasized the importance of relationships.

"Always remember," she said. "the people you surround yourself with is the person you become. So be around loving, successful, positive, supportive, accountable, and responsible people and be this person to others."

"Be thankful for the awesome support system that showed up here for you tonight, as well as some who could not come," she added. "And remember, we cannot do this life alone."

Ceremony of Hope 37 graduate from Union adult education

Haiden Barringer proudly shows off his diploma

Casey Crawford is thrilled to have graduated and made her family proud.

"These guys' resilience and their determination to keep plugging along—we are so proud of them," said Chris Mecusker, Director of Union County Adult Education. "A lot of them have had different life events and obstacles they have had to overcome."

The Union County Adult Education Center offers an alternative path for those who were unable to complete a traditional high school experience. With a flexible, student-centered approach and dedicated staff, the program prepares adult learners for the GED exam, which now earns them an official Florida high school diploma—signed by state officials.

"Our Adult Education Center serves adults who, for one reason or another, through events in their lives, weren't able to get a traditional education," Mecusker explained. "They come to us. We do live teaching three nights a week, three classes a night, and we have live teachers teaching math and reading. Basically, we prepare them for the GED exam."

Unlike a traditional 174-day school year, students at the center work at their own pace—some finishing in a few months, others over several years.

"We try to get them in and out because it's our job to help them try and get their diploma. That's our job," Mecusker said. "We help them set goals and then help them achieve them."

This year's graduation marked the end of an era for longtime educator and program coordinator Eugene Dukes, who is retiring after an astounding 51 years in education. Dukes has been a tireless advocate for the recognition of trade school paths and technical careers, offering students a broader vision for their future beyond traditional academia.

"There are so many students who, for whatever reason, fall through the cracks," Dukes said. “For many years, we’ve had a one-way street. Everybody was supposed to go to college, everybody was supposed to do the same thing over and over, but you were getting the same results—which was not very good.”

Dukes passionately emphasized that the diploma students receive from the program carries the same weight as any traditional high school credential.

“We still call it a GED, but it hasn’t been a GED in years. It is a Florida high school diploma,” Dukes explained. “You can take our diploma and do anything that you want to do with it. You can pass the ACT or the SAT; you can go to the University of Florida tomorrow. Or if you want to go to Lake City or Santa Fe.”

Before stepping off the stage for the final time, Dukes extended a genuine thanks to the community. “I want to thank the citizens of Union County for allowing me to be here fifty-one years,” he said.

Among the night’s standout stories were those of students who had battled incredible odds and emerged stronger than ever.

Makinly Lacy, who spent two and a half years in the program, credited her best friend for helping her stay the course.

“My best friend. She really helped me and she reminded me all the time that I’m important and I know what I can do,” Lacy said. “If I believe in myself, I can succeed.”

Lacy now plans to pursue a career as a 911 dispatcher—a meaningful role she is excited to embrace.

For Casey Crawford, who spent three years working through the program, the journey was deeply personal. “I feel accomplished. I feel great. I feel like a lot of weight is off my shoulders,” she said.

Her toughest challenge? Math. “I’ve been working on my math; that was my last test I had. I took it five times, and I finally passed it on the fifth time,” she shared.

But it was her late father and grandfather—both in law enforcement—who fueled her determination.

“My dad kept me going. My dad passed away and that’s the whole reason I am where I’m at today. Thinking of my dad,” Crawford said. “My papa also passed away. Thinking about my dad and my papa kept me going.”

She now has her sights set on a future in criminal justice or possibly welding—two paths that would allow her to honor her family legacy and passion for hands-on work.

Brothers Ashtyn and Chayce

Brothers Ashtyn and Chayce Latocha graduate together.

Coordinator Eugene Dukes, Superintendent Mike Ripplinger, and Director Chris Mecusker look on at this year’s graduates.

Latocha also took the stage together. Ashtyn, who started the program first, inspired his brother to follow in his footsteps. He now plans to pursue a career in the technology industry.

Chayce, who initially enrolled with Florida Virtual School but struggled to keep up, found a lifeline through the Adult Education Center. With his brother’s encouragement, he completed the program and is now looking ahead to a bold future—perhaps even in professional wrestling.

Another graduate, Haiden Barringer, has a clear vision for what’s next: plumbing. His path is one that reflects the growing respect for skilled trades as not only viable but lucrative and fulfilling careers.

As Mecusker noted, “HVAC, plumbing, EMT—all of those are technically not college programs, but yet they start at sixty, seventy, eighty-thousand dollars [per year].” The evening was a stirring reminder that success doesn’t follow a single path—and that it’s never too late to chase your dreams.

“We have one graduation at the end of the year,” Mecusker said. “And every year, we are inspired by the lives we see transformed through this program.”

With friends, family, and proud instructors looking on, the Class of 2025 proved that determination, support, and a second chance can be a powerful combination. Their journeys weren’t easy—but they finished strong.

As the applause echoed through the high school auditorium, it was clear this night wasn’t just about diplomas. It was about hope. About new beginnings. And about 37 individuals who chose to believe in themselves—and now get to write their next chapter.

Death of Melrose letter carrier results in new law

State Rep. Judson Sapp (standing left of seated DeSantis) said he was grateful to the governor for providing a ceremonial bill signing that honored the memory of Pam Rock, Michael Millett, and all dangerous dog victims.

Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis signed into law a bill that requires the immediate impoundment of dangerous dogs, mandates insurance coverage for dogs that have attacked people, and raises Act during a ceremony on May 21, surrounded by members of Rock’s family.

The 61-year-old Melrose letter carrier was killed in August 2022 after being attacked by five dogs in Putnam County.

According to a news release by State Rep. Judson Sapp, the dogs had a known history of aggression, and their owner had previously attempted to surrender them to animal control without success.

Also in attendance was the family of Michael Millett. Michael, an 8-year-old boy from Volusia County, was killed by a dog while riding his bicycle in his neighborhood in January of this year.

Sapp said he was grateful to DeSantis for providing a ceremonial bill signing that honored the memory of Pam, Michael, and all dangerous dog victims.

“This legislation is not just a policy change; it’s a proclamation to every Floridian that their safety matters,” said Sapp. “Pamela’s tragic death was a preventable loss, and with this act, we aim to ensure that such a tragedy never happens again.”

Sapp said the new law introduces several key measures, including

-Mandatory Impoundment: Dogs that have severely injured or killed a person must be immediately confiscated and held during investigations

-Owner Accountability: Owners of dogs classified as dangerous after investigation due to an attack are required to obtain at least $100,000 in liability insurance upon release back to owner, and ensure their pets are securely confined.

-Microchipping and Identification: Dangerous dogs must be microchipped, and removal of the chip constitutes a third-degree felony.

-Public Awareness: Animal shelters must inform potential adopters if a dog has been declared dangerous, ensuring transparency and public safety.

BHS graduation: carry lessons forward, set aside fear

BY CLIFF SMELLEY
cliff@bctelegraph.com

Bradford High School's top two graduates talked of the memories they and their fellow Class of 2025 members made throughout the past four years, but also provided encouragement and well wishes moving forward as part of their speeches at the school's May 23 commencement at David Hurse Stadium.

Valedictorian Carolyn Adams brought up the "big question" for her and her classmates: "What's next?"

"If there is one thing that I want you all to do after tonight, it's going to be letting go of fear," Adams said. "I was actually told a Bible verse that relates to this very well, and I wanted to include it in my speech. Joshua 1:9 says, 'Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid and discouraged, for the Lord your God is with you wherever you go.'"

Adams said the same verse happened to also be referenced during baccalaureate — after she had decided to include it in her speech.

"Whether this was a coincidence or not, there is no doubt that tonight you are meant to walk away from this field sure of yourself and knowing there is nothing to be afraid of."

"So, talk to that person you always wanted to reach out to. Go to that college you've been anxious to apply for. Take that job opportunity when it is given to you."

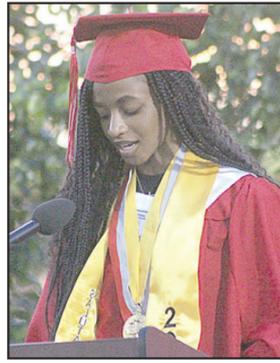

"No matter if you are accepted or rejected, you're going to be just fine. Let go of the stress about the future and realize you will find yourself where you were meant to be."

Adams also took the time reflecting on each year at BHS. She said as incoming freshmen, she and her classmates were either glad to be leaving middle school behind or "terrified" to be going to high school.

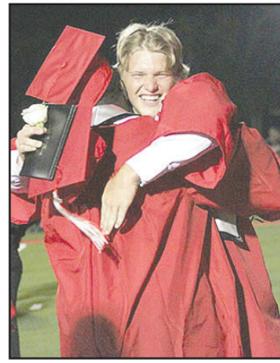

You learn a lot about yourself freshman year," Adams said. "Everything feels new because it is new. A lot of things were happening for the first time for many of us. During those moments, you find out who your true friends are, and you're starting to figure out who you're going to be as a person."

The year included the first involvement in homecoming activities, which saw the class win the parade float competition and place second in the Tornado Whirl skit competition, and the experience of "many great things," like the boys basketball team winning a state championship.

"At this time, we really were just soaking in life," Adams said. "We truly had no idea how quickly this time would pass by."

In talking about sophomore year, Adams said she and her classmates had gained confidence in themselves, adding, "Most of us were starting to learn how to drive, and freedom was starting to feel real good."

She also described the year as "messy," referencing homecoming in which the class didn't do as well in the float and skit competitions.

"Honestly, we were all probably just trying to get through the 10th grade," Adams said.

Adams said during junior year, she and her classmates were preoccupied with thoughts of being seniors the following year, deciding upon careers and preparing for the future.

"Life was starting to get serious," Adams said. "Still, we were able to have fun." The valedictorian admitted she couldn't recall much about her junior year, but did say, "Some of my favorite memories of friends happened my junior year. Whether it was talking to each other too much in class or going to Walmart because there was nowhere else to go."

Adams said senior year included thoughts of participating in events for the last time.

"Our last homecoming week ever, we finally won skit, and we won in float, too," she said.

"After Tornado Whirl, our parents held up our pictures high and walked on the field for us, while everyone watching cried."

Things quieted down for a while for the seniors before "everything happened so fast" after spring break, Adams said, adding, "It was like the countdown to graduation day finally began."

In closing, Adams said, "Now, let's savor this moment and celebrate what we've accomplished. We did it, Class of 2025. We are graduating. We really made some great memories together these last four years."

"You all should be so extremely proud of yourselves. I know that I am."

Capable and ready

Salutatorian Jessica Brown described graduation as "bittersweet," saying, "We are leaving behind familiar classmates, faculty and friends who feel like family, and memories that will remain with us forever. From spirited pep rallies to those unforgettable lessons — not just in textbooks, but in life — we have grown together, laughed together and supported one another."

Yet she and her fellow graduates, she said, are ready to move forward into the future.

"Our high school years have been a testament to resilience, whether it was adapting to change, facing setbacks or pushing ourselves beyond limits we never thought possible. We proved that we are capable of extraordinary things."

"As we step into this next chapter of our lives, whether it's college, careers, services or pursuing dreams that may not even have a name yet, let us carry with us the lessons we've learned. Let us chase passion over perfection, embrace failures as steppingstones to success and never lose sight of the power of love, kindness and hard work."

Brown said the members of the Class of 2025 are ready to step out into the world, "not because we have all the answers, but because we've learned how to ask the right questions."

"We are ready to take on the world, and I have no doubt that each and every one of us will leave our marks in ways that will inspire generations to come because we remember that we are fearfully and wonderfully made by God, and He has equipped us with everything we need to be successful in life," Brown said.

Like Adams, Brown took the time to reminisce, first by remembering getting lost or pretending to not be lost on their first day at BHS and how seniors "looked like actual adults."

"Four years ago, we stepped into high school full of nerves and maybe a little excitement," she said, adding, "It felt like the beginning of something big, and it was."

"As I look across this stadium this evening and across this field, I see a sea of faces, each carrying a unique story — stories of perseverance, challenges, laughter, late nights and triumphs. What started as a sea of unfamiliar faces became friendships and memories that will last a lifetime."

Meeting challenges, reaching potential

BHS Principal Chris Coffey and Bradford Superintendent of Schools Will Hartley both talked of obstacles and how they can be overcome as well as beneficial.

"As you step out into this big and sometimes challenging world, remember, life won't always be easy," Hartley said. "Embrace the hard moments, face challenges head on and see them not as obstacles, but as opportunities to grow."

"Never let a setback define you or deter you from your goals."

Coffey said, "Understand there will be challenging days ahead. The good thing about life is we are not defined by those challenging days, but by how we respond and grow from those times."

The principal told the graduates to be "resilient enough to persevere when you want to quit," while also advising them to "identify your gifts, abilities and passions and find a career that aligns with those." He encouraged students to continue to exemplify the BHS pillars: Present, Respectful, Responsible, Productive and Safe.

Coffey said the students are not going out into the world alone.

"As you continue this journey, remember that you have the belief, love and support of your family, friends and teachers," he said. "Although you are leaving Bradford High School, you will always be a member of the Tornado family."

Remembering those who gave all — now and forever

BY CLIFF SMELLEY
cliff@bctelegraph.com

Retired Army Maj. John Crews, a member of Starke's Jones-Langford-White American Legion Post 56, encouraged people to remember those who lost their lives in defense of this country — not just on Memorial Day or in the present, but also moving forward into the future.

Crews was the featured speaker at the American Legion post's annual Memorial Day observance at Charles J. Schaefer Veterans Memorial Park. He began by asking those in attendance to "take a moment to pause and reflect on the significance of Memorial Day, a day of remembrance and honoring the brave men and women who have made the ultimate sacrifice in service of our nation."

By the time he closed, Crews said the remembrance of those individuals should continue throughout our lives.

"In today's world, we face numerous challenges, both seen and unseen," Crews said. "It is crucial to remain vigilant, informed and prepared in the face of these uncertainties. Yet in doing so, we must also remember to uphold the principles of compassion, understanding and resilience."

"The sacrifices of our military personnel remind us every day that freedom is not free, and it demands our unwavering commitment to protect and cherish it."

"As we observe Memorial Day, let us carry forward the lessons of courage and sacrifice and unity taught by our fallen heroes. Let us commit to a future where their sacrifices are never forgotten and where we strive to build a world worthy of their legacy."

Crews shared the history of Memorial Day, which began following the Civil War, with communities across the U.S. honoring those from both sides who fell in battle.

"Originally known as Decoration Day, this day was a time for families and communities to visit the graves of the fallen personnel and place flowers in respect and gratitude," Crews said. "It was not until World War I when the holiday expanded to honor all American military personnel who had perished in any way."

The day was observed on May 30 until Congress passed the Uniform Monday Holiday Act in 1968, establishing Memorial Day on the last Monday of May. The act went into effect in 1971.

"As we reflect on this history, let us recognize the profound sacrifices made by our service men and women," Crews said. "They have chosen to stand in harm's way so we may enjoy the freedoms and liberties we hold so dear. Their courage, dedication and selflessness are the testament to the strength of the human spirit and the enduring values upon which our country was built."

Bradford High School JROTC cadets participated in the ceremony, placing wreaths in honor of those making the ultimate sacrifice. Wreaths were provided by Jones-Langford-White American Legion Post 56, VFW posts 182 and 1016, Altrusa Club of Starke, Boy Scouts Troop 70, Daughters of the American Revolution, Downtown Merchants, City of Starke, City of Starke clerk's office, Woman's Club of Starke, Bradford County and Bradford County commissioners.

You can help make a difference by checking in with older loved ones. The first step to preventing abuse is to look for signs of mistreatment or physical harm, including bruises, burns and other unexplained injuries.

There may also be signs of neglect such as:

- hunger and poor nutrition.
- poor appearance or hygiene.
- lack of necessary medical aids like glasses or medications that a caretaker should be providing.

There may also be indications of financial abuse, including:

- unpaid rent or other bills.
- sudden changes to a will.
- unusual changes in money management or habits.
- large, unexplained financial transactions.

Combat elder abuse

Elder abuse is the intentional mistreatment or harming of an adult over age 60. This abuse can take many forms — physical, emotional, sexual and financial exploitation, as well as neglect. In the United States, an estimated 1 in 10 adults over the age of 60 experience some form of abuse each year. That number is likely much higher because elder abuse is often underreported — especially in underserved communities.

Abuse victims typically show emotional and behavioral red flags, such as depression, unusual fear or anxiety, or intentional isolation. Many victims are abused by someone they know or trust. It's important to look for unusual changes in behavior around:

NFLT has preserved more than 83 acres near Camp Blanding

North Florida Land Trust has acquired a conservation easement that is more than 83 acres in Clay County on the southeast side of Camp Blanding, within the military installation's Army Compatible Use Buffer zone. It is also within the ecologically important Ocala to Osceola (O2O) Wildlife Corridor.

The conservation easement on the property owned by the Hughes family was purchased for $540,000 with funding from the Department of Defense's Readiness and Environmental Protection Integration program.

"The purchase of this conservation easement ensures that this property will never be developed or changed from its existing use," said Allison DeFoor, president and CEO of NFLT. "The family will be able to continue living on and enjoying the property, while protecting its natural state. This conservation easement protects land vital to wildlife habitats and national defense. It prevents encroachment on Camp Blanding, which has been an important partner in conservation within the O2O for many years."

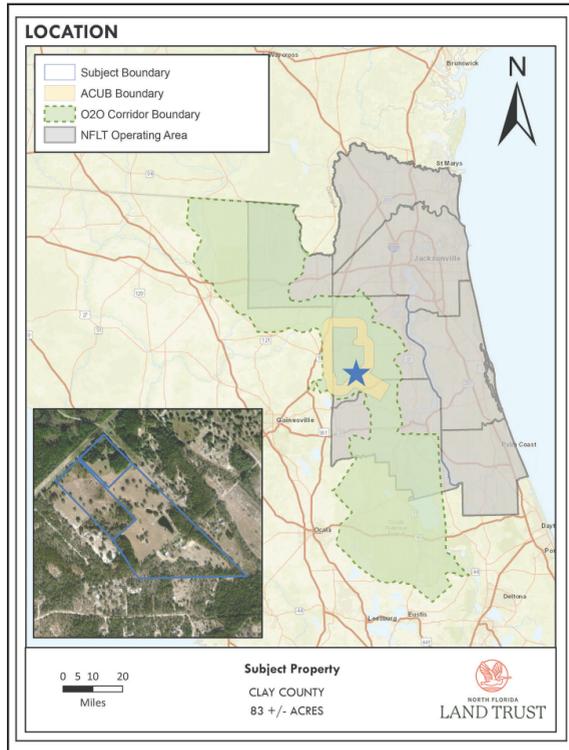

The Hughes property is near NFLT's Milam Preserve, Smith Lake Preserve and Gold Head Branch State Park. It is the family's primary residence and includes two homes, a horse barn, outbuildings and cross-fencing. The conservation easement agreement allows the family to continue to live on and use the land while preventing any further development of the land or more intense uses.

"I am so happy to have found NFLT to help me preserve this beautiful property and the abundant wildlife it supports," said landowner Erin Hughes. "My family has lived in Florida since the 1880s and I am proud to help preserve at least a piece of the natural Florida they once knew. Thank you to Kim (NFLT conservation transactions manager) and everyone who helped make this happen."

Conserving the land protects the habitats of wildlife and plant species and provides a buffer for Camp Blanding. A blend of upland pine forest and open pastureland offers habitat for many native species, including the white-tailed deer, wild turkey, and the gopher tortoise, a protected species. It also sits on the edge of an aquifer recharge area. Protecting the land will help buffer the creek system, maintain historic recharge and discharge areas, and prevent any potential flooding to the military installation that could occur with more intense uses.

A creek on the property purchased for conservation.

North Florida Land Trust will hold the conservation easement on these 83 acres, adding to the nonprofit's successful conservation portfolio. Over the past 25 years, NFLT has helped protect more than 43,000 acres across Florida.

About North Florida Land Trust

North Florida Land Trust is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to preserving and enhancing quality of life by protecting North Florida's irreplaceable natural environment. Founded in 1999, NFLT has preserved tens of thousands of acres of land through the donation or purchase of land as well as conservation easements. NFLT is funded largely by private and corporate contributions and works closely with willing landowners and public agencies at all levels of government, not-for-profit partners, and foundations. BY CLIFF SMELLEY

Bradford High School flag football player Nichelle Brown added to her impressive accomplishments on May 21, signing to play with the best junior-college program in the country and then having her number-five jersey retired.

Brown, who just graduated on May 23, will take her talents to Lake City's Florida Gateway College, which has won every National Junior College Athletic Association championship since the postseason format was implemented for the 2023 season.

"I'm very thankful and very grateful and very excited to start this journey," Brown said.

Brown led the state this past season (regardless of

KHHS' Andrew Wilson will play baseball at Emmanuel

BY CLIFF SMELLEY
cliff@bctelegraph.com

The Keystone Heights High School baseball program lost Andrew Wilson for the 2024 season when he moved to another school, but Wilson returned to KHHS, helped the Indians put together a 19-9 season in that included a district championship and then became just the latest senior to earn a college opportunity.

Wilson signed his letter of intent on May 19 to play for Franklin Springs, Georgia's Emmanuel University, whose program competes at the Division II level.

"It's always been my dream to play college baseball, so I'm very thankful for the opportunity and excited that I get to continue playing," Wilson said following his signing ceremony, which took place in the KHHS cafeteria.

This marked the third signing ceremony this year for a KHHS baseball player, and it looks as if there will be one or two more players who'll eventually sign as well.

KHHS Head Coach Chris Roach said that's a testament to the desire and work ethic of the senior group.

"It's easier to coach gamers who want to go out there and go after it rather than put somebody in a stronghold just to make them go the game that they love," Roach said.

If anybody is a "gamer," it is certainly Wilson. Roach said Wilson is probably the "grittiest" player he's seen in 20-plus years of coaching at KHHS. That's in reference to the amount of work Wilson puts in at whatever position he's playing.

"He's not about flash," Roach said. "He's about getting better at everything he does."

Wilson played primarily catcher and shortstop this past season, but Roach said, "You could've put him at first base, and he would've worked to be the best first baseman he could be."

"I think for college, that's going to be helpful for me," Wilson said. "There are a lot of different spots they can put me in. If I can do every single one of them, I'll have more opportunities to get onto the field."

Wilson would prefer to play one of the two positions he mostly played at this past season, especially catcher.

"I'm a catcher. That's what I do," Wilson said, adding, "I feel like it's kind of the main role on the team. I like to be the one who always has the ball, basically."

Roach agreed that catching is Wilson's "number-one thing" and said the way he plays that position is a bit of a throwback.

"His brain to catch works really well," Roach said. "He's always watching the game. He reminds me of an old-school catcher who had to observe versus the

BHS' Jenkins to play football at Florida Memorial

BY CLIFF SMELLEY
cliff@bctelegraph.com

Trente Jenkins has been such a fixture of Bradford High School football that it'll be strange to imagine the Tornadoes without him.

Bradford's loss, though, will be Florida Memorial University's gain.

The interior defensive lineman, who just graduated on May 23, signed a letter of intent to play for the Miami Gardens college during a May 21 ceremony in the BHS media center.

"I'm just glad I get the opportunity to show my skills at the next level," Jenkins said.

Jenkins said he likes the fact that Florida Memorial is a historically Black university. In fact, it's the only one in South Florida. He also likes the coaches, who have been good at staying in touch with him every day.

He didn't want to go to school outside of Florida, so he found one in state that he feels comfortable at.

"I like the atmosphere there," Jenkins said.

Tornadoes rack up 500-plus yards in 20-9 spring win

BY CLIFF SMELLEY
cliff@bctelegraph.com

Bradford High School got long touchdown runs from Damarion Dodd and Jarrell Harris, while Jordan Cason caught a short touchdown pass from Cy Cubbedge in the Tornadoes' 20-9 win over visiting Suwannee in a spring football game on May 15.

The Tornadoes amassed 519 total yards, while Suwannee gained 138. Bradford's defense was especially stingy on the ground, allowing 4 yards on 21 carries.

Suwannee drove inside the Bradford 20-yard on its first series, but the Bulldogs made only one more red-zone trip the rest of the game, and that was because of a fumble recovery.

Bradford Head Coach Jamie Rodgers said the Tornadoes "got it right" after making defensive adjustments after the Bulldogs' opening series and praised his team's tackling effort.

"Usually, the worst tackling you see all year is at the end of the spring because you try not to beat up other too much in the spring leading up to the game," Rodgers said. "I thought we tackled really well in the open field."

The turnover that set up the Bulldogs' second red-zone opportunity in the game was one of three lost fumbles for the Tornadoes.

We're used to being the team that gets the turnovers and takes the ball away from the other team," Rodgers said.

Still, his team came out on top, so Rodgers added, "If we can clean that up, we'll be fine."

Rodgers singled out the rushing effort of the Bradford offense, which produced 316 yards on 36 carries, an average of 8.8 yards per attempt. Iyen Addison rushed for 78 yards on 10 carries, while Harris had 62 yards on six carries. Dodd needed just one carry to earn his 65 yards.

Keshawn Kennedy also had a solid night, rushing for 44 yards on five carries.

The passing game worked pretty well, too, with quarterback

Cubbedge completing 14 of 25 passes for 157 yards and a touchdown. Jackson Parmeter took the snaps for most of the second half, completing 2 of 3 passes for 46 yards.

Bradford's offense struggled at first. The Tornadoes' first series was a three-and-out that netted minus-3 yards. Bradford's first two drives consisted of nine plays that gained 24 yards.

Suwannee, meanwhile, quickly drove downfield on its opening series. The first two plays were carries by Lou Jack Smith for 14 yards, resulting in a first down at the Bradford 46.

Quarterback Thomas Sykes then completed a 24-yard pass to Jamarcus Cherry, which put the Bulldogs at the 22-yard line. Two plays later, Chase Phillips made a tackle for a loss of 4 yards. Sykes dropped back on third-and-10 and lofted a pass into the end zone that was intended for Koy Frier, but Cason picked it off.

Jackson Parmeter tackles Suwannee's Koy Frier for a loss on a pass play.

Addison got Bradford's third offensive series started in a big way, ripping off a run of 16 yards to the Suwannee 49. Cubbedge completed a 14-yard pass to Jy'Quez Cason before connecting with Jordan Cason for a 19-yard gain to the 16. After a 7-yard run by Addison, Jordan Cason caught a pass and took it in for a 9-yard touchdown with 2:50 remaining in the first quarter, putting the Tornadoes up 6-0. The extra-point kick was no good.

Jordan Cason finished with 81 yards on six receptions.

Parmeter came up big for the Tornadoes' defense on the ensuing series. He tackled Frier for a 3-yard loss on a pass play that had the Bulldogs facing a third-and-6 play. Bradford jumped offsidelines, which left Suwannee needing only to gain 1 yard for a first down. Frier, briefly subbing for the injured

Sykes, was dropped by Parmeter for a 4-yard loss on a run attempt, forcing the Bulldogs to punt.

It was again Addison providing a spark on a Bradford drive with a 10-yard run. The Tornadoes appeared to have scored when Harris broke free for a 45-yard run into the end zone, but a holding penalty brought the play back. Bradford overcame the penalty and crossed midfield on a 12-yard reception by Koy Hartley for a first down at the Suwannee 39. Addison later converted a fourth-and-1 play with a 5-yard run to the 25. Suwannee's Jadayce Jones made a tackle for a 5-yard loss on the following play, but Bradford then picked up another first down, with Hartley (four receptions, 42 yards) catching a pass for a 21-yard gain to the 9.

The drive stalled, with Harris

Indians lose to Warriors, Hornets in spring jamboree

BY CLIFF SMELLEY
cliff@bctelegraph.com

Keystone Heights High School's football team played Lafayette and West Nassau for two quarters each in a May 20 jamboree in Keystone, losing 14-0 to both.

The jamboree, which also included Interlachen, consisted of four matchups in all, with Interlachen playing West Nassau and Interlachen playing Lafayette. The second quarter of each game was played with a running clock.

Keystone's defense struggled against West Nassau, which had two possessions and scored touchdowns on both, but had a much better performance against Lafayette. The Indians did give up a 35-yard touchdown pass on Lafayette's first offensive play, but then held the Hornets to minus-9 yards the rest of the way.

Lafayette's other score came courtesy of its defense on an interception return.

"Defensively, we are a lot closer than I anticipated," KHHS Head Coach Steve Reynolds said. "That's probably where most kids who are returning have the most experience."

The offense was a different story. Keystone finished with 59 yards total in both games, with 40 of those coming on a run by Jagger Lancaster against Lafayette. The Indians had eight plays that lost yardage and turned the ball over twice against Lafayette.

Quarterback Cole Crabtree (left) scrambles away from pressure on what would be a 22-yard run against West Nassau.

"We put ourselves in bad position on offense," Reynolds said, adding, "We've got to help ourselves out."

Ultimately, though, Reynolds knows spring ball isn't necessarily an indicator of how the fall season will go. He pointed out that Keystone defeated two teams in a spring jamboree in 2023 and then suffered two bad losses to open the regular season.

In 2024, Keystone defeated two teams again in the spring, only to then experience a 2-8 regular season.

Reynolds said the spring game is "really about getting kids reps" and evaluating position battles as well as identifying areas that need work moving forward.

"We've got some spots to shore up still," Reynolds said.

W. Nassau 14 KH 0

In the matchup against West Nassau, the Warriors' offense took to the field first, putting together a 75-yard scoring drive. Quarterback Pryce Arnold completed a 14-yard pass to convert a third-and-7 play, while a 9-yard run by Mo Green gave the Warriors a first down past midfield at the Keystone 46. Three straight carries by Skyler Freeman netted 33 yards, with his 23-yard run giving West Nassau a first down at the 13-yard line. The Warriors, after getting penalized for illegal procedure, got runs of 4 and 14 yards from Green and Freeman, respectively, with Freeman's carry right through the middle of the defense resulting in a touchdown at the 6-minute mark of the first quarter.

The Warriors went for two after the score, but Avery Griffin's run came up short when he was tackled by Colton Hollingsworth, leaving the score at 6-0.

Keystone's first offensive series began with West Nassau's Levi Bowler sacking Ryder Trull for a 7-yard loss. A fumbled handoff on the next play resulted in a loss of 5 yards. The Warriors did give Keystone's offense new life, with roughing-the-passer and unsportsmanlike-conduct penalties giving the Indians a first down at their own 45, but the first play from there was a bad shotgun snap that resulted in a loss of 16 yards. After a 1-yard run by Kyle Perkins and an incomplete pass, Keystone punted.

The negative plays, of course, frustrated Reynolds.

"I don't know about Bill Walsh or Don Coryell," Reynolds said, referencing two Pro Football Hall of Fame coaches known as offensive masterminds, "but I don't have a play for third-and-21."

West Nassau began its second drive at its own 45. Tackles by Perkins and Pete Bostic helped force the Warriors into a fourth-and-5 play at the 50. West Nassau lined up to go for it, with quarterback Arnold drawing the Indians offsidelines for a first down.

A fumble two plays later had the Warriors facing third-and-13, but they picked up the first down on a 14-yard reception by Kevin Carter. Running back Andi Ataiza the put West Nassau into the red zone as he bulled through several defenders on a 20-yard carry to the 14-yard line. A holding penalty later negated a 10-yard touchdown run by Griffin, but Ataiza scored on a 7-yard run that counted with 8:04 to play. Chris Messer had a successful run on the conversion attempt, putting the Warriors up 14-0.

Quarterback Cole Crabtree had the best offensive play for the Indians on the ensuing series when he scrambled for a 22-yard gain. Hunter Crumpton had carries of 7 and 6 yards to give Keystone a first down past midfield, but a holding penalty put the Indians into long-yardage plays, with the game ending on an incomplete pass on third-and-18.

Factoring in the negative plays, the Indians rushed for just 11 yards, while its two quarterbacks had no completions on five attempts.

West Nassau gained 112 yards on the ground on 18 carries and finished with 140 total yards.

Lafayette 14 KH 0

After West Nassau and Lafayette both defeated Interlachen, Keystone took to the field again to play Lafayette and wrap up the jamboree.

The offensive struggles continued. After two run plays failed to produce any yardage, a pass was picked off by Jack Stewart and returned approximately 23 yards for a touchdown less than two minutes into the game. The Hornets, after the extra point, led 7-0.

Keystone punted on its next series after running three negative plays that resulted in a total loss of 9 yards.

One play was all Lafayette

needed to add to its point total, with Tucker Higginbotham throwing a 35-yard touchdown pass to Parker Hill. Another successful extra-point attempt capped the game's scoring.

The defense rebounded on Lafayette's next series. After the Hornets were penalized for holding, Hollingsworth made a tackle for a 2-yard loss. Luke Bacorn then had an 8-yard sack. The Hornets gained 16 yards on a pass play, but then had an incomplete pass on fourth-and-14, turning the ball over to Keystone at the Lafayette 31.

A 5-yard run by Crumpton and a 5-yard pass play from Trull to Baylor Ford helped give the Indians a first down.

BROWN

University of Florida football great Percy Harvin — that special kind of athlete that you try to get involved as much as possible.

“It was about creating ways to get her the ball,” Staples said. “That was our offense. We probably had 472 plays we would draw up each game because every team prepared to stop Nichelle.”

When asked what made her so good, Brown said, “Hard work and dedication.”

Brown attended camps at Florida Gateway, with Head

Coach Ricky Hufty making an official offer to her after the third one.

“It’s a very good program,” Brown said. “I’m blessed to be able to have this opportunity.”

Since the college is a little more than 30 miles from BHS, it’s easy to imagine that Brown will have quite a fan group cheering her on at games.

“I’m very excited for that,” she said. “I can’t wait for it.”

As for what it’ll feel like when she steps onto the field for the first time as a Florida Gateway Timberwolf, Brown said, “I might be a little nervous. I definitely will be nervous, but I’ll be ready for it.”

Staples said Florida Gateway, which scored an average of 43 points per game last season, will make use of Brown’s talents.

“She will be one of those people who helps them win a fourth (national title),” Staples said.

Because of Brown’s accomplishments at BHS, Staples announced that her jersey number would be retired.

“I don’t know that 144 touchdowns will ever be scored here again,” he said.

The signing ceremony, which took place in the BHS media ceremony, also gave Staples an opportunity to hand out awards for the season. Two were for Offensive Player of the Year and Defensive Player of the Year. As you might imagine, Brown was presented with the offensive award, while rising senior Ar’Nayshia Griffin was the top defensive player. Griffin had 25 interceptions this past season, which tied her for first in the state (regardless of classification). She has 57 interceptions total in three years.

Earlier in May, Brown, Griffin and Staples were all honored by FloridaHSFootball.com and Jacksonville Jaguars PREP. The two players were named to the All-PREP 25 Team, with players selected from the 17 schools in the Jaguars area. Staples was named as Coach of the Year.

R.D. Crawford

Mr. Robert Douglas "R.D." Crawford, 70, of Starke passed away peacefully at his residence on Saturday, May 3, 2025, after an extended illness. He was born March 28, 1955, in Starke to Gerald and Lois (O'steen) Crawford Sr. and graduated in 1973 from Bradford High School. It is there that he met his high school sweetheart and the love of his life, Donna (Davis) Crawford, and they shared 51 years of marriage. He began working at age 5, harvesting strawberries on a farm. He continued to harvest various crops throughout his childhood. In his teen years, he broke horses and worked in carpentry and masonry in the construction of homes and businesses. In April of 1974, he began his career with the Department of Corrections at Florida State Prison Main Unit. There, he promoted through the ranks to Captain. Between ranks, he took numerous classes at Lake City Community College and taught classes there as well. He was Lock and Key Sergeant; a member of the CERT team, Drug Interdiction team, SWAT team and RIOT squad, firearms instructor, defensive tactics instructor, a certified EMT, certified firefighter, assisted in writing the FDLE exam, and even fought in the Police Olympics. One of his favorite positions with the Department of Corrections was training lieutenant. He taught and trained countless correctional officers and police officers. During this time, while working two jobs, spending time a week, he volunteered his time to implement a free karate class, 1.5 hours, two nights a week to anyone who wished to attend in order to give the local children something with structure and discipline, that could be fun and rewarding, while occupying their time and keeping them out of trouble. Many adults attended the class as well and it was successfully operational for three years until his promotion to Captain on night shift. After his retirement from DOC in 1999, he was home enjoying his grandchildren, but the urge to work took hold, so he and his wife began to haul trailers across the country, beholding the sights, many times traveling alongside his brother, Gerald, with his wife Patty, making memories that would forever be cherished. He then worked various supervisory positions until his permanent retirement in 2016. He enjoyed hunting, fishing, golf, carpentry, gardening, water sports, martial arts, playing cards, practical jokes, but, most of all, he enjoyed spending time with his family. He was a man of good character and morals, loyalty, honesty, integrity, and always stood by his beliefs and principles. Always willing to lend a helping hand, with refusal to ask anything in return. He was a leader, one who led by example. He began walking the halls of FSP Main Unit at 19 years old, in the early '70s, when each time you entered those gates, you never knew if you were going to make it back out with your life. Though he retired in 1999 after 25 years of dedicated service, those halls will echo his name for decades to come. Douglas, as his family lovingly referred to him, was preceded in death by his parents, Gerald Leslie Crawford Sr. and Lois (O'steen) Crawford; brother, Gerald Leslie Crawford Jr.; and sister, Linda (Crawford) Luecking; as well as his loyal fur companion, Bo (Dalmatian) and spoiled brat, Ruby (Dachshund).

He is survived by his wife, Donna (Davis) Crawford; son, Michael P. Crawford; daughter, Nicole Y. (Ty) Jordan; grandsons, Dalton W. Addison, Dustin L. Addison and Nicolas T. Jordan; granddaughter, Macala C. Crawford; sister, Patricia "Trish" A. (J. Robb) Streeter; brother, Stanley (Mary Ann) Crawford; stepbrother, Gary (Debbie) Wallace; his fur buddy, Rocky (Boxer); and many beloved nieces, nephews, cousins, and dear friends.

As per his wishes, there will be no memorial or funeral services. Memorial donations may be made to Bradford County Animal Shelter.

He immediately demonstrated his extraordinary leadership skills and soon began his career in education administration as the assistant principal of Bradford Middle School. At the age of 26, he became the youngest principal in the state of Florida when he was appointed principal of Brooker Elementary School. During his career, he also served as principal of Lawtey Community School and Bradford Middle School. He ultimately was elected as the Superintendent of Bradford County Schools in 2000. After retiring from Bradford County Schools, he moved to Texas, and he continued his teaching career, serving elementary children with special needs. With his years of service in Texas, he was also able to earn a second retirement. Buddy's impact to the educational communities he served extended beyond the classroom. He had a deep love for children and was widely respected as an empathetic and caring educator. He was known for his boundless energy and work ethic. Every child he had the privilege of interacting with was touched by his compassion, kindness and wisdom.

He is survived by his three children, two daughters, Alicia Michelle Paterson and Elizabeth Dell Paterson (Corin Barnard) and a son, Robert George Paterson IV; and the mother of his three children, Dea Moredock Paterson. He is also survived by two grandchildren, Caleb and Cameron; sister, Linda Paterson King; and brother, Larry (Terri) Paterson; and a host of extended family members.

In lieu of flowers, Buddy's family requests contributions to the Gina's Blessings Ministry in his memory (GinasBlessings.org). A memorial service is planned for Saturday, July 19, at Foundation Church, Starke, Florida (formerly First Methodist).

JENKINS

"He's played in huge games," Rodgers said. "The lights won't be too bright for him."

Jenkins recorded 58 tackles last season, which was the second most on the team, and finished his four-year career with a total of 205. He led the Tornados in tackles for loss in 2024 with 10.

Rodgers said because of Jenkins, other players were freed up to make plays on defense.

"He demanded a double team pretty much all the time because of his strength," Rodgers said.

Combined with that strength was a quickness that Rodgers said had Jenkins moving like a "bigger skill player."

Jenkins' height is listed at 6 feet, which some coaches would view as a negative, Rodgers said. However, the head Tornado said that's a plus.

"The lowest man usually wins on the line of scrimmage," Rodgers said.

As he prepares to transition to playing at the next level, Jenkins said he needs to "hit the weight room hard and stay in shape," as well as continue the type of work ethic that amounted to success at BHS.

"It's about how hard you work when nobody's watching," Jenkins said.

Rodgers said Jenkins already possesses the strength necessary to play at the next level.

"What he'll need to work on is his agility and moving side to side," Rodgers said.

Jenkins said he'll be nervous when he steps onto the field for the first time as a Florida Memorial Lion, but his BHS coach believes he'll be ready to compete and force Florida Memorial's opponents to double team him just as Bradford opponents had to do.

"He'll be making plays," Rodgers said.

Bonnie Higginbotham

Mrs. Jacqueline "Bonnie" Higginbotham, 84, of Lawtey passed away at her home Sunday, May 25, 2025, following an extended illness. She was born Dec. 25, 1940, in Lawtey to Nathan L. and Daisy (Futch) Starling. She was a retired hairdresser and had attended Evergreen Baptist Church for many years. She was a member of the Lawtey Cemetery Association and loved fishing, gardening, taking care of her yard, and, especially, baking and cooking for the grandchildren. In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband of 56 years, Harold "Rudy" Higginbotham; their daughter, Robin Higginbotham; siblings, Evangeline Bush, Lorene Smith, Hazel Sapp, Harold Starling, Mary Crawford, Thelma Goodman, and Eugene Starling.

Left behind to cherish her memory is her son, Harold "Hal" Higginbotham; and grandchildren, Nicole Higginbotham and Casey Harden; along with great grandchildren, Cole, Madison, Karsen, Kane, Callie, Cade, Colt, and Piper, who all lovingly called her "Nanny."

A graveside service will be held Monday, June 2, at 11 a.m. at Lawtey Cemetery.

Arrangements are under the care of Jones-Gallagher Funeral Home, 620 E. Nona St., Starke 32091. 904-964-6200. www.jonesgallagherfh.com

After graduating from high school, she married her first husband, Vernon Rudolph, a young aspiring Air Force officer (later a Vietnam War veteran), and together they had three sons. After completing her bachelor's degree, she spent most of her adult life as a nurse caring for others. In 1988, she married Arthur Labelle, a former Navy pilot and Korean War veteran and they resided together in Florida until his passing in 2012. She spent her final years living in Canterfield of Kennesaw, a retirement community in the suburbs of Atlanta, Georgia. She had a lovely voice and enjoyed singing at any opportunity, especially in her church choir. Her favorite pastimes included long excursions to the beach, painting and cooking. She was a loving wife, mother, grandmother and great-grandmother. She will be laid to rest near her mother, stepfather and husband. She was preceded in death by her parents; stepfather; sister-in-law, Joyce Boubelik; aunts and uncles.

She is survived by her dear brother, David (Davie) Boubelik of Kalamazoo, Michigan; former husband, Vernon (Joyce) Rudolph (Joyce) of Woodstock, Georgia; three sons, Benton Rudolph (ex-wife, Carla) of St. Petersburg, Nathan (Donna) Rudolph of Lilburn, Georgia, and Burton (Ashely) Rudolph of Kinston, North Carolina; cousins, Burt and Jean Adam of Kalamazoo, Michigan; nieces and nephews, Bo (Robin) Boubelik, Mark Boubelik and Michelle (Kevin) Boubelik; grandchildren, Dylan Rudolph, Quinn Rudolph, Gabrielle Rudolph, Conner (Neydi) Rudolph, Sophie Rudolph, Scott (Danielle) Rudolph, Perry (Brooke) Rudolph, and Parker (Colleen) Rudolph; and great-grandchild, Perry Edward Rudolph.

Services will be held Saturday, May 31, at 3 p.m. at Jones-Gallagher Funeral Home. Interment will follow at Keystone Heights Cemetery.

tripping and losing 3 yards on a first-down run attempt and Addison then being held to 2 yards on second down. After an incomplete pass on third down, the Tornadoes' Tyler Sapp attempted a 27-yard field goal, which was no good.

Suwannee drove past midfield on the following series, but Bradford got a big play out of Jonathon Andrews, whose 7-yard sack had the Bulldogs facing a third-and-16 play. Sykes completed a 14-yard pass to Cherry, which set up fourth-and-2. The Bulldogs went for it, but Danny Torres made a tackle for a 1-yard loss, forcing a turnover on downs.

The Tornadoes fumbled the ball away two plays later. Suwannee, starting a drive at the Bradford 20, ran three plays for a net gain of no yards. William Slaughter kicked a 37-yard field goal to make the score 6-3 with 1:40 left in the first half.

Bradford turned the ball over on its first two possessions of the second half, which was mostly consisted of the teams' younger players. Suwannee scored after the second turnover on a 40-yard touchdown pass. The PAT was no good, but the Bulldogs led 9-6 at the 3:22 mark of the third quarter.

Jarrell Harris (right), who was the Tornadoes' second-leading rusher, bounces a run outside.

The Tornadoes retook the lead on a 65-yard drive to start the fourth quarter. Elijah Lawrence and Kennedy had runs of 6 yards each, followed by Kennedy getting his number called again for a 5-yard gain. Parmeter had a 3-yard carry before Harris bounced a run outside for a 45-yard touchdown. Sapp added the PAT to make it a 13-9 game.

After forcing the Bulldogs to punt, Bradford needed just one play to extend its lead. Dodd took a handoff and didn't stop running until he crossed the goal line 65 yards later. Sapp kicked the extra point to end the scoring, with Bradford on top 20-9 with 6:47 to play.

The Tornadoes got a 35-yard pass play from Parmeter to Aldon Sanchez on their final series and drove to the Suwannee 11-yard line before letting time expire.

Rodgers said that for the most part, he got the effort he was looking for. One of his top goals was to see players give all-out effort and prove they want to be on the field on Friday nights in the fall.

Another positive was that every player had the chance to be on the field.

"That's what the spring's about," Rodgers said. "Everybody got involved tonight."

Last year, that wasn't the case because we played a varsity half against Suwannee and a varsity half against Buchholz.

Tonight, we got everybody into the game, and that's always a positive."

Hollingsworth, however, was tackled for a 5-yard loss on the next play, which was followed by three straight incomplete passes for a turnover on downs.

Keystone's defense stuffed a run play for no gain and forced Lafayette to go three-and-out. The punt had the Keystone offense starting a drive at its own 30.

The first play of that drive was Lancaster's 40-yard run, which moved the Indians to the Lafayette 30. Keystone fumbled the ball on the next play, however, with the Hornets recovering.

Lafayette had a fumble on the ensuing play, resulting in a loss of 17 yards. Keystone's Coy Campbell then intercepted a pass.

WILSON

new-school, where everything's signaled in. He watches the game very well."

Wilson batted .306 this past season. He shared the team lead for home runs (2), was second in RBI (20) and walks drawn (19) and third in on-base percentage (.491).

The soon-to-be Emmanuel Lion said batting this past season "was kind of rough at points mentally." Wilson's goal is to get to where he's not overthinking his offensive approach.

"Basically, just get past the mental part of it and just hit like I hit," he said. "I feel like I do better when I don't think very much."

That's part of what Wilson will be working on in transitioning to play at the next level. He said he wants to be more consistent and hit the ball harder.

"You can't have the ups and downs," Wilson said. "You've got to have a consistent season."

Roach said that grittiness that Wilson possesses will help him as he adapts to playing college ball.

"His competitiveness is bar none," Roach said. "He's going to go after it. His work ethic, being in the gym, being at the hitting facility — all those things are going to be a plus for him."

When Wilson steps onto the field for the first time at Emmanuel, it will literally be a dream come true.

"That's where I've always wanted to be," he said.
