School district thanks retiring teacher

BY DAN HILDEBRAN
Dan@BcTelegraph.com

The Union County School District thanked a 21-year employee during the June 24 school board meeting.

Elizabeth Vandiver spent her first 16 years teaching in Jacksonville before making Lake Butler Elementary School her home over the last two decades.

The school's former dean, Stephanie Sellers, now an assistant principal at the high school, joined Principal Michelle Fuist and Superintendent Mike Ripplinger in honoring the exceptional student teacher.

Fuist said she appreciated Vandiver's initiative.

"Ms. Vandiver is one of those ladies who has initiative," she said, "and you're like, 'Hey, I need a couple of people to do this new project.' You haven't even explained the project. And she's like, 'Pick me, pick me.'"

Sellers added that the retiree has impacted countless lives, including the former dean's.

"The impact you had on my professional life is profound," she told Vandiver.

The outgoing instructor is a two-time teacher of the year, once in Jacksonville. She won the honor at Lake Butler Elementary in 2006.

In an interview with the Times earlier this year, Vandiver said she will miss her students the most.

"Teaching little people to read and their smiling faces," she said. "They're always very encouraging and loving, and they make your bad days better. I will miss working with them the most."

Hendrix re-elected Lake Butler mayor

BY DAN HILDEBRAN
Dan@BcTelegraph.com

The Lake Butler City Commission re-elected Melissa Hendrix as the municipality's mayor during the commission's June 17 meeting.

When City Attorney John Maines asked for nominations, Annette Redman nominated Rondell Huggins, and Hendrix nominated Fred Sirmones. Huggins nominated Hendrix.

"She laid a true foundation, and I think that we're headed in the right direction," Huggins said.

When commissioners voted, Huggins received one vote, Hendrix three, and Sirmones zero.

After the mayor was elected, the commission took nominations for vice mayor. Huggins was the only member nominated.

Gray introduced as new Lake Butler public works director

BY DAN HILDEBRAN
Dan@BcTelegraph.com

City Manager Kim Hayes introduced new Public Works Director Mike Gray to the city commission during the five-member panel's June 17 meeting.

Gray told commissioners he is a graduate of Santa Fe High School and has operated a business over the last 32 years, building fences and pole barns.

"Been pretty successful," he said of his business. "Things have slacked down here the last few years, and I think COVID has had something to do with that. But I'm looking forward to working with the city, trying to get some things straightened out around here, maybe a little bit, and get these guys motivated. Let's clean this

Bradford and Union 4-H join forces for business

BY ANGELINA BOUDY AND MEAGAN DANIEL UF/IFAS

During the week of June 9, UF/IFAS Union County Extension Office hosted a three-day 4-H camp titled Young Entrepreneurs, in collaboration with UF/IFAS Bradford County Extension. The camp aimed to educate youth ages 11 and up about the key elements of starting and running a successful business, to spark interest in entrepreneurship.

Throughout the week, participants engaged in activities covering marketing and branding, supply and demand, persuasive pitch writing, and identifying personality traits common to entrepreneurs. They also heard from a variety of local business owners, gaining real-world insight into business ownership and factors to consider when developing a business plan.

The camp concluded with participants presenting their business plans to a panel of "sharks," modeled after the TV show Shark Tank. Youth showcased the knowledge they had gained and competed for prizes based on their creativity and presentation.

To kick off the week, participants completed a short questionnaire based on the True Colors personality test. After answering a series of questions, they identified their primary and secondary personality "colors": Green, Gold, Blue or Orange. They shared their results as a group and learned how different personality traits can affect leadership, business success and professional relationships.

The first business visit was to The Roberts Companies, where Avery Roberts shared his entrepreneurial journey. He emphasized the importance of surrounding yourself with the right people and learning from mistakes. His key message: Don't dwell on failures. Look forward and keep growing.

Melissa McNeal, owner of Six Petals Flower Co., spoke about running her floral business and her family's multi-generational agriculture operation, Dukes Family Farms. She stressed the importance of anticipating client needs and prioritizing customer satisfaction over personal preferences. Participants also visited Dukes Family Farm to help welcome guests to the Watermelon Variety Trial event. Youth were able to witness firsthand large-scale event coordination, stakeholder networking and the value of collaboration.

Realtor Sondra Hunt of United Country Realty discussed branding and using social media presence as a marketing tool. She highlighted the importance of establishing strong relationships with clients that are based on trust. She also talked about the need for resilience since running a business, much like real estate, can encounter unpredictable challenges.

At Gather, a newer Lake Butler business, Jennifer Thomas shared her vision for her business and led a collaborative activity where youth identified traits of entrepreneurs, such as generosity, creativity, and leadership. She encouraged youth to lead with purpose and pursue their passions.

The final business the youth visited was Belle Oaks Barn in Brooker. Owners Doug and Michelle Green shared their journey in the agritourism industry and how they've adapted over time to help their venue thrive. Their story inspired youth to think big and embrace learning as part of business growth.

Throughout the camp, youth developed their own business ideas, including titles, logos, taglines and marketing plans. At the end of the week, they presented their business pitches to a panel of judges, or "sharks," to earn hypothetical investments. The panel included Lizzie Whitehead (UF/IFAS Bradford County extension agent), Stephanie Sellers (Union County High School Assistant principal), and Ashlyn Gladding (Union County High School teacher).

All 12 participants presented impressive business ideas, including homemade sugar scrubs, wood crafts, lip balms, an automatic fishing reel, an agritourism farm and a private gym. The top three winners were:

1st place: Weston Daniel – welding business.
2nd place: Indi Knox – Mini Miles, a car seat rental business.
3rd place: Brantley Porr – electrical business.

Thanks to all the businesses and judges who contributed to the success of the Young Entrepreneurs camp. Additionally, a special thank you to Clay Electric for providing a grant that covered registration fees for this camp, making it possible for Union County 4-H to continue offering exciting opportunities for older youth in 4-H.

Woman's Club speakeasy raises $2,000 during centennial celebration

BY JENN SAMSEL
Special to the Monitor

On Saturday, June 21, the Keystone Heights Woman's Club transported attendees back in time with a lively speakeasy fundraiser. The atmosphere was filled with nostalgia and excitement while supporting a great cause.

The event was a remarkable success, boasting an attendance of 75 guests who collectively raised $2,000. Everyone embraced the 1920s theme with stylish attire, and the evening was filled with food, dancing, music, and a silent auction.

The funds that were raised were allocated to the installation of the club's new roof.

"We had an excellent turnout. It was fun and a wonderful night. Our band, LowKey, kept the atmosphere lively, and everyone truly enjoyed themselves," said Brooklyn Hayes-Yelin, Co-President of the Keystone Heights Woman's Club.

The Friends of Keystone

Heights began planning the city's centennial celebration a few years ago. They asked the Woman's Club to organize an event that would help celebrate this milestone throughout the year. The goal was to create activities encompassing all ages and effectively mark the occasion.

"We set the date about three years ago, but we weren't sure of the best way to engage the community," Hayes-Yelin said. "The idea for a speakeasy emerged during one of our fundraising committee meetings. We conducted our research and embraced the concept from there."

The co-president pointed out Capital City Bank as the event's sponsor.

"Every dollar we make will go towards paying down our balance on the roof," she said. "We appreciate everyone who supported us and all the volunteers who helped organize the event. We couldn't have done it without you."

On second thought: Proposed pavilion moved to opposite corner

BY MARK J. CRAWFORD
mark@bctelegraph.com

Starke commissioners have amended their plan for a new pavilion at the Downtown Square by moving it to the opposite corner.

In response to concerns about a new entertainment stage facing toward existing and future residential development, the plan now calls for building the stage in the southeast corner of the property.

"There's been a number of people who have voiced a concern about the orientation of that building, and with the future development that is going to happen along the east side that pavilion, (it) would basically be directly influencing or affecting those residents, future residents," architect Paul Stressing said.

The existing stage — which was to be preserved for other uses — will be torn down. Engineering documents for the structure could not be located, and there was fear that it would not support the weight of any additional load.

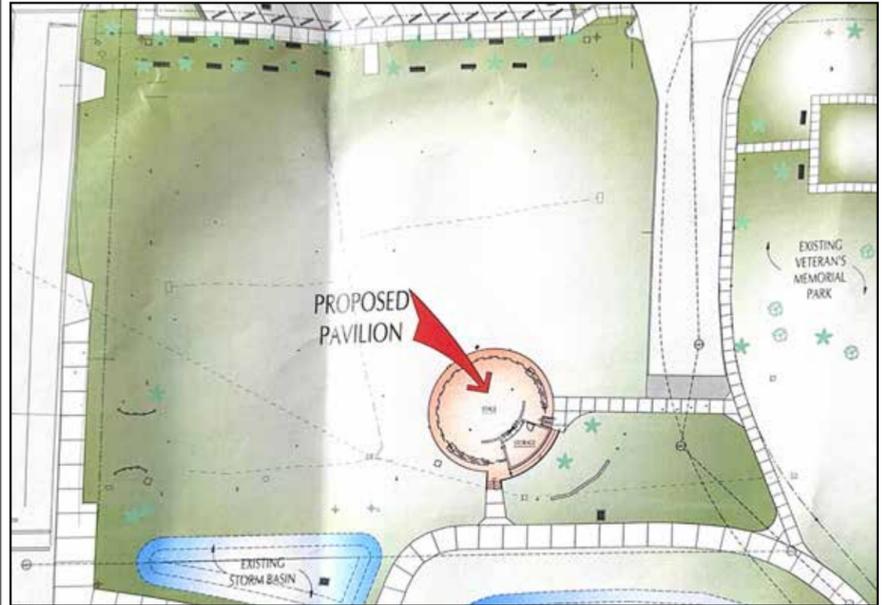

The new stage was based on one in the town of Tioga but is 25% larger. It has a storage area behind the stage, support for theatrical lighting and a screen that can be lowered for movie projections.

The northwest corner was originally chosen so Church Street could be closed during events for staging and parking food trucks. That could now take place on the remaining portion of South Water Street, which has been closed since the construction of the railroad overpass.

The city has an $800,000 grant to cover construction costs and found the remaining $142,347 in line items for grant matching funds and park improvements. The construction contract was awarded to Scherer Construction in April. The change in plans is not expected to impact construction costs.

Commissioner Bob Milner said the new stage would be located where it belonged all along. Additionally, the squared doesn't need two stages, he said. The room is needed for spectators and other activities.

Mayor Andy Redding mentioned adding a small stage to the storage area behind the pavilion since it will face the new Veterans Memorial Park and could possibly be used to set up a podium during ceremonies.

Recent arrests in Bradford, Union and Clay

The following individuals were arrested recently by local law enforcement officers in Bradford, Union or Clay (Keystone Heights-area) counties. All defendants are considered innocent until convicted in a court or until pleading guilty or no contest. Information in this report is from law enforcement agencies and court documents, which are public records.

Bradford

Tyrell Banks, 34, of Orlando, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 20 for lewd and lascivious behavior.

101 mph on motorcycle

Naketa Barnes, 34, of Palm Bay, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 19 for resisting an officer, driving with a suspended or revoked license, possession of drugs, possession of drug equipment, and reckless driving.

According to an arrest report, Deputy T. Lovell saw a southbound green motorcycle passing cars at a high rate of speed on U.S. 301 north of the bypass. The deputy clocked the two-wheeler at 101 mph in a 65-mph zone.

"I made a U-turn in an attempt to conduct a traffic stop, at which point the motorcycle accelerated at a high rate of speed, continuing south," the officer wrote. "I notified Trooper Palmer with the Florida Highway Patrol of the situation. Trooper Palmer was in front of the motorcycle."

Lovell added that when Barnes tried to pass the trooper, Palmer stopped the motorcycle.

Lovell added that as he approached the bike, he saw a plastic baggie inside the rider's helmet near her mouth. The substance inside the plastic tested positive for methamphetamine.

A check with dispatch revealed the driver did not possess a valid license.

"I asked Naketa why she ran, and she advised 'she was scared,'" reported Lovell. "I inquired about the methamphetamine and Naketa advised she has been addicted for ten years."

Text message: 'You will die.'

Matthew Barnhardt, 37, of Starke, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 19 for intimidation.

According to an arrest report, the victim told deputies she received several threatening text messages from her ex-boyfriend and the father of her children.

She showed deputies multiple threatening messages, including one that read "You will die."

Deputy David Hall wrote in the report that when he interviewed the defendant, "Matthew stated he would never cause harm to (the victim) but agreed that the text messages would lead a reasonable person to believe he wanted to cause severe harm to them."

A'nyiah Carroll, 21, of Starke, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 19 for a probation violation.

Sharon Fussel, 60, of Brooker, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 17 for possession of drug equipment and possession of drugs.

Jena Gentry, 39, of Keystone Heights, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 18 for an out-of-county warrant.

Thomas Golsner, 30, of Gainesville, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 15 for DUI and driving with a suspended or revoked license.

Steven Hall, 63, of Starke, was arrested by Lawtey police on June 18 for driving with a suspended or revoked license, possession of drug equipment, and possession of drugs.

Tabitha Hopkins, 46, of Starke, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 19 for a probation violation.

Thomas Igoe, 21, of Starke, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 17 for battery.

Devonte Jackson, 31, of Jacksonville, was arrested by Lawtey police on June 20 for driving with a suspended or revoked license, possession of drug equipment, and possession of drugs.

Antwan Johnson, 35, of Gainesville, was arrested by Lawtey police on June 18 for driving with a suspended or revoked license.

Meth found during speeding stop

Marie Meating Pendergrass, 61, of Starke, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 17 for possession of drugs. According to a sworn complaint, deputies stopped the defendant's Jeep on May 8 in the area of Starke's Brownlee and Clark Streets for going 40 mph in a 30-mph zone. After gaining consent to search the vehicle, officers found a glass pipe with methamphetamine residue within the 61-year-old's purse. On June 19, the defendant pleaded guilty to possession of a controlled substance without a prescription and was sentenced to 18 months' drug offender probation.

Ransom Norman, 24, of Lawtey, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 17 for possession of drugs, selling drugs, and possession of drug equipment.

Lori Reid, 53, of Brooker, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 16 for driving with a suspended or revoked license.

Donald Stewart, 62, of Starke, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 19 for failure to appear.

Donald Stokes, 48, of Daytona, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 20 for failure to appear.

Hit woman with frozen chicken

Steven Thornton, 53, of Starke, was arrested by Bradford deputies on June 14 for battery.

According to an arrest report, after arriving on scene, deputies observed that both the victim and the defendant were intoxicated. According to the victim, the pair got into an argument, with Thornton following the victim into a bedroom where he sat on top of her and grabbed her hands, causing injuries.

"(The victim) was able to get Steven off, at which time they entered the living room area," wrote Deputy Paul King in the report. "Steven removed a bag of frozen chicken from the deep freezer in the living room and hit (the victim) in the upper lip."

King added that the defendant denied striking the woman and claimed that she attacked him.

Union

Cleaning lady accused of theft

Samantha Dover, 26, of Lake City, was arrested by Union deputies on June 17 for grand theft.

According to an April 8 complaint, the owner of a cleaning service met Deputy Charles Townsend about Dover, her employee, possibly stealing jewelry from a customer.

Townsend consulted an online database and discovered the defendant had four transactions at a Lake City pawn shop from January through March. Another woman, who had the same address as the defendant, had four additional transactions between March and April.

Two of the rings pawned by the roommate matched the descriptions of the missing jewelry.

According to Townsend, further investigation revealed that on six occasions, when a customer realized jewelry was missing, the defendant or the roommate pawned jewelry at the Lake City pawn shop the following day.

Townsend located additional victims, who then filed theft reports with the sheriff's office.

The deputy obtained photographs of the pawned merchandise, and the victims identified the jewelry as their property.

Michael Findley, 45, of Lake Butler, was arrested by Union deputies on June 17 for an out-of-county warrant.

Jeffrey Garven, 43, of Summerfield, was arrested by Union deputies on June 24 for an out-of-county warrant.

Jason Keenan, 43, of Lake Butler, was arrested by Union deputies on June 18 for lewd and lascivious behavior.

Text: 'We both know I can break you in half'

Thomas Lindboe, 42, of Lake Butler, was arrested by Union deputies on June 16 for intimidation.

According to an arrest report, the victim told deputies that Lindboe had grown increasingly frustrated by her refusal to meet with him at a Worthington Springs convenience store for a child custody visit.

"(The victim) advised that she had been meeting Thomas at the designated Safe Custody Exchange location at the sheriff's office, but Thomas did not like going there," wrote Deputy Samuel Murphy in the report. "As Thomas continued to message her, his messages became more hostile in nature. He began to make statements like, 'We both know I can break you in half with one hand with very little effort'."

After one exchange in which the defendant became angry over the victim not having the child call Lindboe, the defendant messaged, "I've already been to jail once over her, I'll gladly go again if you aren't at the store at 6."

Doris Rewis, 50, of Raiford, was arrested by Union deputies on June 17 for a probation violation.

Dylan Shuler, 33, of Lake Butler, was arrested by Union deputies on June 17 for a probation violation.

Ronda Stringer, 57, of Jacksonville, was arrested by Union deputies on June 20 for possession of a controlled substance without a prescription and possession of drug equipment.

Clay

Wrestled over iPhone

Jacob Duncan, 21, of Keystone Heights, was arrested by Clay deputies on June 14 for domestic battery.

According to an arrest report, the victim told deputies that her boyfriend of four years was intoxicated and began an argument with her.

"The victim stated (that) as the argument escalated, she took a bottle of liquor, which she believed the defendant had been consuming, and poured it out," wrote Deputy B.A. Jones in the report. "She said this enraged the defendant, so she retrieved her iPhone to attempt to record the argument, fearing the defendant would become violent."

The victim added that Duncan tried to snatch the phone from her hands, and the two wrestled over the device.

Keystone's founder was man of business, faith

John J. Lawrence, the founder of Keystone Heights, was born in June 1870 in the Summerhill Township of Erie County, Pennsylvania, to parents, Hiram Lawrence of Pennsylvania and Julia Walrath Lawrence of New York.

Lawrence's wife, Agnes Ellen Boyd, was born on March 7, 1891, in Somerset County, Pennsylvania, and they were married on December 16, 1916, in Pittsburgh.

Lawrence was an ordained minister and is memorable for his participation in religious causes and organizations, as well as his land development. His theology has been described as interdenominational in scope, reflecting the four-fold gospel of salvation, sanctification, healing, and the second coming of Christ.

From Lake Brooklyn to Lake Geneva

During the opening years of this century, many land speculators and developers came from the north, either to invest in or develop land in Florida. Shortly after World War I, Lawrence, like most of the others, headed first for the south of the state, toward Miami.

There, he investigated the possibility of acquiring and developing some land, but because he was dissatisfied with the high prices in southern Florida, he began traveling along the Trail Ridge, searching for an ideal town site where the land prices were reasonable.

Apparently, while Lawrence was still residing in Pennsylvania, George Sebring had asked him to come to Florida to assist him in a development project he was undertaking. The city they developed together is now the city of Sebring.

While in Sebring, Lawrence met J. B. Zell, who owned several thousand acres around Brooklyn Lake, formally located where Park of The Palms is today. Lawrence visited the area, decided it was suitable for his plans, and purchased the land.

He invited his brothers, Jess, Joe, and Claude, to invest in and develop the land with him, and in 1919, they founded the Lawrence Development Company, which they headquartered in the Brooklyn Hotel, a two-story frame building.

economically by pecan orchards and orange groves. They began clearing the land themselves with the assistance of a few local residents.

In 1924 when Rev. Watson went to St. Petersburg to begin eventually grew even larger and has since changed its name to Trinity College.

Lawrence also helped to form the Gospel Tabernacle of Melrose, an organization affiliated with the Christian and Missionary Alliance, whose charter lists its objective as to promote the cause of the Christian religion. Lawrence served on its board of trustees for three years.

John Lawrence is also remembered locally for having started the first church in Keystone Heights, Community Christian Church, which met in his house, located on the hill at the corner of Lawrence Boulevard and Jasmine Avenue, until other facilities were available.

Estate liquidated

John Lawrence died of colon cancer at 6 a.m., March 25, 1929, at St. Luke's Hospital in Jacksonville. Just prior to his death, he was reported to have felt ill but still able to get around town. He went to Jacksonville simply for treatment. His death was unexpected.

Agnes Lawrence lived until 1968. They had no children, and Agnes rationalized that since all their relatives were already self-sufficient, the Lawrence estate should be liquidated into cash and donated in John Lawrence's name to any Christian cause to be chosen at the discretion of the executor. Agnes suggested a scholarship fund for ministerial students at Trinity College.

John Lawrence quickly became dissatisfied with Brooklyn's plating. Agnes took him to the shore of the lake she had found while on a walk, and they agreed to move the town site to Lake Geneva.

The new town, Keystone Heights, would be an investment opportunity for entrepreneurial northerners. The Lawrence Brothers envisioned a community supported

Revivals, schools and churches

Besides his real estate activities in Sebring and Keystone Heights, Lawrence was interested in promoting religious organizations. He and his wife frequently entertained the Rev. Dr. W. T. Watson, and Dr. John Mind, who traveled through this section of Florida an evangelistic tent revival, he asked Lawrence to conduct the first series of meetings. The revival resulted in an organized church, which Watson continued to pastor for more than 30 years.

This church, which John Lawrence helped form, was instrumental in establishing the Florida Bible Institute at Temple Terrace near Tampa, where a young Billy Graham received his basic training. The school

Union County Pop Warner hosts scramble

Sixty golfers hit the links at Quail Heights Country Club in Lake City on Saturday, June 21, to support Union County's Pop Warner youth football program.

League President and Union County Commissioner Mac Johns organized the event. During a board of county commissioners meeting last week, he told his fellow commissioners that fundraising for the league allowed him to purchase $9,000 in new equipment for the youth football organization.

During the shotgun-start scramble, Johns said he decided to step in and lead the league after it had dwindled to one team with no cheerleaders.

So far this year, enough players for three teams have signed up for the upcoming season.

Johns said fundraising fills the gap between what most parents can afford to pay and the program's costs. He added that his league charges parents around $150 per player, which only covers the price of a uniform and equipment. Pop Warner registration fees and insurance add $40 to the cost.

Team Crawford, consisting of Taylor Crawford, Tammy Carter, Ryan Crawford, and Karlee Gainey, took first place in the scramble with a score of 49.

Team Thompson, consisting of Wyatt Thomas, David Thomas, Nolan Julius, and Walker Thompson, came in second. The foursome donated their $300 prize to Union County Pop Warner. They scored 51.

Brian Dicks won closest to the pin on Number 11.

David Tew won the award for best-dressed male golfer. He also won closest to the pin for the 15th hole.

Trevor Holtzendorf shot the longest drive.

Other teams participating were The Gilmores, Florida Septic Services, North Florida Technical College, Team Hole in Won, The Taylor Swifties, Swift Creek Trucking, Marshall Rawson for Florida State House District 10, Union County Babe Ruth, Springtown Automotive, Dampier Septic and Well, Pipeline Contractors, and Showcase Signs.

Gainey, Mike Tew, Brian Dicks, David Tew, and Taylor Crawford won closest to the pin competitions at various holes. Trevor Holtzendorf shot the longest drive. Marla Williams and David Tew each won $100 for being the best-dressed.

Union County organizer speaks to Keystone Heights group

BY DAN HILDEBRAN
Dan@BcTelegraph.com

ACORN Clinic Executive Director Tina Lloyd spoke to the Keystone Heights Rotary Club on June 11, telling the Lake Region civic group how her nonprofit delivers dental care to underprivileged residents.

Lloyd also described her role in leading other Union County community groups, including United for a Cure, the Union County Impact Initiative, and the Lake Butler Rotary Club.

Loses $83 on each patient

Lloyd said that when she was hired to lead the Brookier-based dental clinic in May 2024, the board told her the nonprofit needed money, and it was her job to find it.

The new hire responded that since the clinic was approaching its 50th anniversary, a celebration fundraiser would be her first major project.

She said the nonprofit set a goal of raising $50,000 for the night, and the event netted $56,000.

"When I do a dinner," she told the Rotarians, "I'm going to think strategically. I don't just go out and sell tables for whatever amount. We got a big poster board and wrote how many tables there would be at the event."

Lloyd added that she and her team then set financial goals for each segment of the fundraiser.

She also said the group's total cost for the event was $1,700.

"Belle Oaks Barn in Brookier offered the venue space for free," she said. "I went to Piesanos in Gainesville, and Piesanos provided the meal for 200 people for free, and they even offered to do it annually."

Lloyd said fundraising is critical to the clinic's mission because it loses $83 every time a patient walks into its facility.

The program is staffed by fourth-year dental students from the University of Florida's College of Dentistry and Santa Fe College dental hygiene students. One staff dentist oversees the work of the students.

The executive director said availability is one reason her clinic draws from such a wide area. While there are other free dental clinics in North Central Florida, few have appointments available. The ACORN Clinic schedules appointments around its volunteer students' schedules before each semester.

"I mean, a lot of these dental offices are (booked) out like a year," she said. "We book for one quarter after we get the student schedule. So, right now, we're booked up until August. When we get the new schedule, people start calling in August, and we fill the schedule with people that are on the waiting list."

Union County leader Tina Lloyd spoke to the Keystone Heights Rotary Club on June 11.

Lloyd said grant writing has been another funding avenue. She recently received a $6,000 award from Wawa, a $25,000 grant from the Jacarlene Foundation, and a $20,000 grant from the Clay Electric Foundation.

"I'm applying everywhere," she said.

Making an impact

Lloyd told the Rotarians she is an Alachua County Safety Net member and thought Union County should organize a similar effort. She added that the Alachua group is centered around healthcare and felt that a parallel organization in her home county should expand beyond that focus.

"So, my vision for the Union County Impact Initiative was to have a space where people can come and network and collaborate, all the different businesses, and then also to use it as an opportunity for us to talk about the needs in the county, whether it's healthcare, food, economical, whatever, disparities that we could talk about as a group and identify those and then collaborate with how to change it."

Lloyd said representatives from 85 organizations attended the inaugural meeting of the Union County Impact Initiative.

"When you look around, you drive through Union County," she told the civic group, "You say, oh, we might have 20 businesses. It was amazing. We had people come from the Bradford Health Department, and we had trucking companies and insurance companies."

Lloyd said one attendee from a Jacksonville-based managed care plan wrote a $2,500 check on the spot and promised to be at all future initiative meetings.

"So, that's how powerful that was," she added.

Lloyd said that since the initiative is still in its early stages and not yet legally formed, the Lake Butler Rotary Club is officially running the operation.

The organizer said that as part of the effort, she applied for a $350,000 Healthy Communities grant from Florida Blue, listing ACORN Clinic and the Union County Impact Initiative as participants.

"Union County is the smallest county in the state, and we're known to be the most unhealthy," she said. So, we want to change that."

United for a Cure

Lloyd next talked about a cancer support organization she and three other Union County women launched four years ago: United for a Cure.

She said that the foursome turned over proceeds to the American Cancer Society after the group's first fundraiser.

"The following year, we decided let's do something different," Lloyd recalled. "Let's make it our own. Let's keep the funds in the county and support the residents of Union County. So, with that, we started the second year, and since then, we have raised close to $180,000."

Lloyd said United for a Cure pays for any cancer screenings.

"The second thing that we do is we provide financial assistance," she said. "We give $3,000 to anyone that's in active treatment. They can use it however they choose. They can use it for rent, mortgage, they can use it for gas, they can use it for phone bills, medical co-pay, or whatever it may be. Because anybody who gets diagnosed with cancer, it is not something you expect."

Lloyd said the group's primary event is a fundraising walk on the last Saturday in September. She added that the organization receives a lot of support from Bradford County.

Lake Butler Rotary Club

Lloyd next talked about her role in the Lake Butler Rotary Club, of which she is the current treasurer.

She said that when she joined the club three years ago, there were some negative impressions of the group in the community.

"And I think a lot of it was because they thought that Rotary was just a place to go sit down and have a free meal with chicken and a lot of old men talking," she said.

Lloyd said the club began overcoming that negative impression by recruiting new members.

"We have a lot of young, spirited people who are ready to get going," she said. "It actually encouraged the other members who have been members for years to really get involved."

"I'm a firm believer that if you're sitting in the chair, there's something you can do," the club treasurer continued. "You can register somebody, you can make a call, you can drop off a flyer, whatever it is, you can do it."

Lloyd added that the club's cash reserves have quadrupled over the three years since she has been in the club.

"And that's after paying $15,000 for our fireworks," she said. "We were able to hand out 20 scholarships, including eight to Union County High School students."

It's about the ask

Lloyd then talked about the club's annual fundraiser, which netted over $80,000 in one night.

She said she and club President Alexandra Pritchett modeled the event on the successful ACORN Clinic 50th Anniversary celebration.

"We have worked together," she recalled, "and it's about the ask. If you don't ask, they can't support it. Union County has a lot of giving people. I am just amazed at the money that gets

Court of Appeal hears arguments in Starke

BY DAN HILDEBRAN
Dan@BcTelegraph.com

Florida's First District Court of Appeal heard oral arguments in three cases in Starke on June 18.

The Tallahassee-based court ordinarily hears cases in the state capital but also hears cases throughout the First District, which consists of the First, Second, Third, Eighth, and Fourteenth circuits.

Florida's Eighth Judicial

Circuit is based in Gainesville and includes Alachua, Baker, Bradford, Levy, Gilchrist, and Union Counties.

On June 18, a three-judge panel of L. Clayton Roberts, Stephanie W. Ray, and Adam S. Tanenbaum heard oral arguments at the Bradford County Courthouse.

The first case, the Estate of Kyle Robert Volp vs. the Florida Sheriff's Risk Management Fund and Andrew William Sasser, involved a Nassau County correctional deputy who used force on a pretrial detainee, resulting in the deputy's termination and battery charges being filed against him.

A lawyer for the estate sought to reverse a lower court's ruling that the risk management fund's policy covering the sheriff's office did not cover the use of force incident because the policy excluded criminal acts. However, the same policy expressly stated that it did cover battery.

In the second case, Kenneth Lakatis vs. the Citrus County Sheriff's Office and the Sheriff's Risk Management Fund, lawyers for the appellant, Lakatis, sought to reverse a judge of compensation claims order that denied workers' compensation benefits to the Citrus County Sheriff's sergeant.

In 2023, Sergeant Lakatis was diagnosed with cardiovascular disease. He was a 20-year smoker and had a history of cholesterol problems.

During an April 2024 administrative hearing, a court-appointed expert medical advisor testified that the claimant's non-occupational risk factors were the major factors that led to the deputy's accelerated cardiovascular disease. The judge subsequently denied benefits to the officer.

The third case, Joseph Durden vs. St. Johns County Fire Rescue/Preferred Claims

Solutions, was also a workers' compensation appeal. This case centered around the definition of heart disease and whether atrial fibrillation constitutes heart disease under Florida's workers' compensation rules.

put into Union County."

Lloyd wrapped up her talk by recounting a phone call she had made earlier in the morning.

She said the City of Lake Butler needed beach sand to replenish Lakeside Park and was seeking a $2,500 monetary donation from the Rotary Club to fund the effort.

Lloyd instead called Vulcan Materials in Keystone Heights, which offered to provide the city with seven truckloads of sand valued at over $5,000.

"So again," she told the Lake Region group, "If you don't ask, they can't support it."

"While trying to regain control of the phone," Jones wrote, "the defendant shoved her in the chest with his hand, causing her to fall backward. The victim said the defendant then took her phone and smashed it on the ground."

Duncan then left the home in the area of Little Rain Lake Road.

The officer reported severe damage to the phone, adding that it was nonfunctional.

While Jones was investigating the incident, another deputy saw the defendant's vehicle traveling on State Road 21. The officer conducted a traffic stop. Jones relocated to the traffic stop and arrested Duncan.

Meth concealed in flashlight

Jonathan Letchworth, 73, of Starke, was arrested by Clay deputies on June 16 for trafficking in methamphetamine and possession of drug equipment.

According to an arrest report, a Clay County deputy reported that just before midnight, he was traveling on State Road 16 in the area of Camp Blanding.

"(The officer) observed a gold in color Chevrolet pickup truck... (The officer) observed the front seat driver not wearing a safety belt, as well as the vehicle traveling with its high beams activated."

The deputy performed a traffic stop, and a dog later alerted officers to the presence of drugs in the Chevrolet.

"D/S McCrea conducted a meticulous search of the vehicle which, revealed the following... located a small plastic baggie containing a crystal-like substance that resembled methamphetamine in the driver's side door panel pocket," wrote the reporting officer. "(A deputy) located a blue in color flashlight on the driver's side, contained inside of the exterior toolbox. opened the flashlight and revealed a larger baggie of a crystal-like substance that resembled methamphetamine."

The 2.3 grams found in the door panel and the 23 grams recovered from the flashlight tested positive for methamphetamine.

Struggled over defendant's diary

Jennifer Streetz, 43, of Keystone Heights, was arrested by Clay deputies on June 15 for domestic battery.

According to an arrest report, the victim and defendant said they were on the front porch of a Shilah Avenue home, arguing and struggling over the defendant's diary.

Deputy Matthew Johns wrote that he reviewed video of the encounter.

"The video shows both parties on the front porch, with the defendant on the victim's back," wrote the officer. "Both are screaming frantically while struggling over possession of the defendant's diary. The victim is heard saying, 'Let me go,' while the defendant responds, 'You give me my property back.' The video shows the defendant falling to the ground and pulling the victim down with her, causing him to fall on top of her. While on the ground, the victim is heard saying, 'I've been assaulted.'"

The deputy added that based on the totality of circumstances, including statements and video footage, probable cause was established for domestic battery.

John Williams, 53, of Keystone Heights, was arrested by Clay deputies on June 19 for indecent exposure.

Teresa McCollough

Teresa Cantrell McCollough, 54, passed away peacefully Saturday, June 21, 2025, at North Florida Regional Medical Center in Gainesville after a long and courageous battle with lung cancer. She was born Sept. 28, 1970, in Yazoo City, Mississippi, where her roots took hold, and her spirit blossomed in the heart of Mississippi. In 2015, she made the move to Florida, embracing new horizons alongside her husband, Ty McCollough, with whom she shared 20 beautiful years of life. Throughout her life, she brought a sense of happiness and wit that was palpable to all who knew her. Her subtle humor lit up the lives of many, making ordinary moments feel extraordinary. She worked in accounts payable for Pritchett Trucking from 2016 until illness forced her to retire at the beginning of the year, demonstrating her unwavering dedication and commitment to her responsibilities. Though she faced her illness with a strength that inspired those around her, it was her role as "Mimi" to her cherished grandchildren that brought her the most pride and joy. She adored Grayson, Kaiden, Colson, Annalise and Augustus and looked forward to the arrival of her newest grandchild, Sinclair. They were her heartbeats, the very essence of her being, and the source of countless treasured memories. She was preceded in death by her parents, Olan Cantrell and Shelby Jean Littlejohn.

Her love extended beyond her grandchildren. She is survived by her adoring children, Chesley, Sterling, Kayla, and Kyle; and siblings, Blue Cantrell, Trish Alridge, and Tony White.

In honoring her spirit, a Celebration of Life will take place at her home in Starke on Saturday, June 28, beginning at noon. Here, friends and family will gather to share stories and reminisce about a remarkable woman whose life, though far too brief, was woven with laughter, love, and cherished moments.

Archer-Milton Funeral Home is honored to serve Teresa's family during this difficult time. 386-496-2008

Bill Rhoden Sr.

In Loving Memory of William Kelly "Bill" Rhoden Sr., Aug. 29, 1961-June 9, 2025. It is with heavy hearts, we announce the passing of William Kelly (Bill) Rhoden Sr., who went home to be with our Lord on Monday, June 9, 2025, at the age of 63. He was a gentle soul who loved to laugh, even if it was at himself, and he shared his humor with everyone around him. He had a warm heart, a deep love for his family and laughter was his love language. He could turn almost anything into a reason to laugh. He had a unique ability to bring joy to the room in that way. Whether it was a clever joke or a memorable story from his colorful past, he had a knack for turning even the most mundane moments into cherished memories by making a joke. Born in Starke and raised in Hampton, his life came full circle as he grew up, married Rose, the love of his life, and moved away from his hometown up to Tennessee to start his family. He eventually came back home to nearby Keystone Heights to live out the rest of his life. He worked over 30 years as a carpenter. He loved football (Go Gators), country music (Go Merle Haggard), quiet evenings on the back porch, diving into a good dish of shrimp with lemon and "talking" about fishing. Most of all, he loved seeing his family and, any time they showed up at his home, to spend time with him, it was pure joy. He was a master storyteller (some true, some not) and lived his life on his own terms and never let anyone impede his choices. He was preceded in death by his parents, Walter and Peggy Rhoden; sister, Cindy Willoughby; and brother, Mark Rhoden.

He is survived by his children, William Kelly "Will" (Erica) Rhoden Jr. of Dade City, Bridgett (Justin) McCarthy of Warsaw, Indiana, Christopher Rhoden of Dade City and Sandy (Josh) Canady of Brooksville; grandchildren, Kaliegh, Kyndal, Peyton, James (Jr), Josiah, Seth and Jordynn; his companion of 10 years, Lorrie Croussore of Keystone Heights; brother, Wayne Rhoden of Keystone Heights; sister, Dianne (Thomas) Davis-Nogueira of Troutman, North Carolina; many beloved nieces and nephews and neighbors who became extended family to him, and his son, Jimmy Rhoden.

A private memorial of his life will be held at a later date, after which he will be laid to rest in the family lot at Hope Baptist Church Cemetery in Thersassa. Cheers to you, Bill, for living life your way.

Diane Walker

Diane King Walker, born on Sept. 4, 1946, in Lawtey, departed this world on Monday, June 23, 2025, at her sister's home in Jacksonville. She was known for her unwavering spirit and a stubborn streak that kept her loved ones on their toes. She dedicated an impressive 35 years of her life working at Sonny's, where she took great pride in preparing the salad bar and whipping up some delicious soups, much to the delight of many satisfied patrons. Her heart beat strongest for her family. She raised two sons, Robert Box and Michael Box, who together filled her life with joy. Her legacy continues through her beloved grandchildren, Autumn Box, Megan Hahn, and Raymond Starling. Oh, how she beamed with pride for each of them, and their children brought her such happiness, her great-grandchildren, Lillian Schlichting, Kingston Hahn, Grayson Hahn, Khaleesi Hahn, Grace Morris, Justin Starling, Ryan Starling, Ashley Starling, Kaitlyn Starling, and Remington Starling; and great-great-granddaughter, Oaklyn Rose were her pride and joy, and she always expressed her gratitude for the family she had built. She was a woman of simple pleasures; she found joy in shopping, oh, how she loved to shop! Whether it was rifling through thrift store treasures or paging through catalogs, she embraced the hunt with a zest for life that left her family and friends favorably amused.

She leaves behind a robust and loving family whose fond memories will forever echo in their hearts. She is survived by her sons, Robert Box and Michael (Heidi) Box; along with her cherished grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She is also survived by brothers, Spunkie (Susie) King and Tommy (Jane) King; and sisters, Helen Howard, Judy King, Phyllis Lewis, Shirley King, and Cleo Sapp. Special nieces, Theresa Barron and Lacy Barron, also hold a dear place in their hearts for Diane; along with a host of nieces and nephews.

Diane joins her beloved parents, Floyd and Annie Mae King; late husband, Autis Walker; and precious daughter, Dana Marie, who await her with open arms.

Visitation will be on Friday, June 27, beginning at 11 a.m., followed by a funeral service at 12 p.m., all held at Archer-Milton Funeral Home in Lake Butler. She will be laid to rest immediately following the service at Dyal Cemetery.

Frances Waters

Frances Marie Mathis Waters enriched our lives with her presence from Nov. 3, 1944, born in Taylor County, until she joined her soulmate, Earl, in heaven on Monday, June 23, 2025, while surrounded by loved ones in her home located in Lake Butler. She met Earl at a dance in White Springs, who then went on to share a deep and everlasting love that served as an inspiration to everyone around them. Their marriage of 48.5 years was a testament to the power of devotion and partnership they gave to one another. Earl was the center of her entire world and not a day went by when she didn't share stories of their time together or how much she missed him. She dedicated a significant portion of her life to the Department of Corrections as a skilled Licensed Practical Nurse, where she demonstrated an unwavering commitment to care and compassion for anyone fortunate to cross her path. As a devout member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, her faith was a guiding force in her life. She found joy in supporting her church, sharing her testimony, and its fellow church members. She frequently hosted missionaries, providing them with meals and a welcoming home, embodying the spirit of service and outreach. She was a woman with a multitude of interests which showed just how much she appreciated the world around her. She found pleasure in reading a good book or delighting in the challenge of a crossword puzzle. She shared a great fondness for preserving the bounties of her garden through canning. Her evenings were often spent indulging in her love for old western movies or TV shows. But perhaps her greatest impact was felt within the walls of her own home. Her home was always a hub of activity, filled with the joyful sounds of her many grandchildren. Her house was a haven for everyone, a place where all were welcome and treated like family. Whether it was a warm meal, a listening ear, or a place to stay, her door was always open and her heart ready to embrace those in need. She will be remembered as the "granny to everyone" whose home was filled with love, laughter, and lasting memories. She now joins her beloved husband of 48.5 years, Earl Waters, who preceded her in death; alongside her parents, Ruben and Thelma Lee Mathis; siblings, Robert Davis, Barney Mathis, Willie Mathis, Ellis Mathis, and George Mathis; and grandchildren, Celena Taylor and Benjamin Taylor.

Frances leaves behind a legacy that will live on in the hearts of her children, Beverly Taylor, Mitchell (Doreen) Waters, Richard (Elizabeth) Waters, Deborah (Dave) Marszalek, and Martha Waters (Ran Jackson). Her grandchildren, a bright constellation that enriched her days, include Krystal (Adam) Janasiewicz, Rheanne Taylor, Mariah Taylor, Amanda Waters, Richard Waters, Joshua Waters, Nicholas Svir, Jessica Swartz, Jennifer (Aram) Petit, Joshua (Ashley) Davis, Joey (Kacie) Jackson, Justin Waters, and Jordan (Baleigh) Caze. Furthermore, she was blessed with great-grandchildren, whose laughter and smiles filled her life with warmth, Liam Taylor, Cora Janasiewicz, Robert Janasiewicz, Nathan Waters, Abigail Waters, Eli Waters, Breanna Melton, David Swartz, Lincoln Melton, Cash Svir, Taygen Pennella, Ayden Petit, Grayson Petit, Jaye Davis, Allie Salanci, C.J. Salanci, Korbin Davis, Madison Jackson, Joseph "Trip" Jackson III, Asher Caze, and Callie Caze. Frances proudly embraced the title of great-great-grandmother to Elaine Rivera. She also shared a lifelong bond with her sisters, Josephine Ward and Mattie Lou Anderson.

A visitation to honor her will be on Friday, June 27, at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints in Lake Butler, beginning at 1 p.m., followed by a funeral service at 2 p.m. She will be laid to rest immediately following the service at Oak Grove Cemetery.

PAID OBITUARY

Bears in unexpected areas

Spring and early summer mark a general increase in activity for Florida's black bears after limited movements in winter. During this time, juvenile bears could be spotted in unexpected areas as they leave their mothers' home ranges.

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission shares this annual reminder that the best thing to do if you see a bear — whether in an unusual spot or not — is to give it plenty of space and never approach or feed it.

"Juvenile or yearling bears (between the ages of 1.5 and 2.5) disperse from their mothers' home ranges in spring and summer," said FWC Bear Management Program Coordinator Mike Orlando. "Yearlings can sometimes temporarily find themselves in places people wouldn't expect to see bears as they pass through in search of new areas of their own to settle down. As long as people keep their distance, these bears typically move along on their own."

Bear sightings tend to increase this time of year in suburban and urban areas, including in cities like Jacksonville, Orlando, Tampa and other more-highly populated areas around the state.

Seeing a bear in a neighborhood is not necessarily cause for alarm, but it is important that people give it space and secure food attractants so that bears do not linger in the area. Feeding bears can make them lose their natural fear of people. It is illegal in Florida to intentionally feed bears or leave out food or garbage that will attract bears.

Black bears are not generally aggressive, but like any wild animal, if they feel threatened, they can become defensive. Dogs have been involved in over half of the incidents of people getting injured by bears in Florida. When walking dogs, keep them close to you — ideally on a non-retractable leash — and be aware of your surroundings, which is good practice for preventing conflicts with any wildlife. Before letting your dog out at night in your yard, flip lights on and off and bang on the door to give bears and other wildlife a chance to leave the area.

As bears become more active this time of year, they cross more roadways. For your own safety and to avoid hitting bears and other wildlife, remember to slow down when driving, particularly on rural highways at dawn or dusk. Watch for road signs identifying bear crossing areas. Each year in Florida, an average of 300 bears are killed after being hit by vehicles.

If you have bears in your area, follow these basics to help prevent conflicts with bears:

- Secure food and garbage. Store garbage in a sturdy shed or garage and then put it out on the morning of pickup rather than the night before. If not stored in a secured building, use a bear-resistant container. Secure commercial garbage in bear-resistant dumpsters. Protect gardens, beehives, compost and livestock with electric fencing. Pick ripe fruit from trees and bushes and remove fallen fruit from the ground.

- Remove or secure bird and wildlife feeders. If wildlife feeders are left up, only put enough food out for wildlife to finish eating before dark and make feeders bear-resistant.

- Never leave pet food outdoors. Feed pets indoors. If feeding pets outdoors, only put food outside for short time periods and bring in leftover food and dishes after each feeding.

- Clean and store grills. Clean and degrease grills and smokers after each use. If mobile, store them in a secure shed or garage.

- Alert neighbors to bear activity. If you see a bear, let your neighbors know. Share tips on how to avoid conflicts with bears. Encourage your homeowner's association or local government to institute bylaws or ordinances to require trash be kept secure.

Having conflicts with bears? FWC staff are here to help. Call the North Central Region office in Lake City at 386-758-0525.

If you spot an injured, orphaned or dead bear, feel threatened by a bear or want to report someone who is either harming bears or intentionally feeding them, call the FWC Wildlife Alert Hotline at 888-404-3922.

More information is available at MyFWC.com/Bear, where you can access the "Guide to Living in Bear Country" brochure. Find additional ways to avoid conflicts at BearWise.org. Florida and 43 other states support BearWise, an innovative program that helps people learn ways to responsibly live around bears.

Clover Awards, Outstanding 4-H'ers highlight BC awards event

BY CLIFF SMELLEY
cliff@bctelegraph.com

Cassidy Brown, Luke Sapp

and Ansley Ward were named Outstanding 4-H'ers of the Year at the Bradford County 4-H awards banquet, which was held June 3 at the Gov. Charley E. Johns Conference Center in Starke. Brown and Ward were the junior and intermediate honorees, respectively, while Sapp was the senior honoree.

Amber Sapp of the Endeavor Club was presented with the Club Leader of the Year Award.

The Endeavor Club earned an Emerald Clover Award — the highest honor a club can achieve regarding performance standards.

Two clubs received Gold Clover Awards for performance standards: Green Acres and Leadership.

The Crawford Swine and Homies clubs earned Silver Clover Awards.

Clover Awards were also earned by individual members. Intermediate member Ward was the only 4-H'er to receive an Emerald Award.

Sapp was one of four senior members to earn Gold Clover Awards, joining Michael Brown, Kelsey Reddish and Elijah Sapp.

Intermediate members receiving Gold Clover Awards were Destin Brown, Dylan Brown, Sophie Elkins, Nicholas Ward and Avery Wulff-Vanderpuije.

Brown added to her Outstanding Junior 4-H'er of the Year Award by earning a Gold Clover Award.

Shawn Ward also received a Gold Clover Award in the junior division.

Kalb: 4-H youth now a 4-H program assistant in Duval

BY CLIFF SMELLEY
cliff@bctelegraph.com

It was always going to be a part of her life because of the skills she learned, but 4-H has also become a job for Tara Kalb, who is currently a 4-H program assistant at the UF/IFAS Extension Office in Duval County.

Kalb, a 2019 Union County High School graduate and daughter of Alan and Lisa Holtzendorf, said a career in 4-H “just kind of happened,” beginning with a stint as a 4-H program assistant in Charlotte County, but she has enjoyed it and loves being a part of the Duval County Extension team.

“The office culture is so awesome. I’ve never worked in a healthier work environment than I have with those people,” Kalb said, adding, “They’re always ready to jump in and help at any time.”

Though she was involved in 4-H at the earliest level as a Cloverbud (ages 5-7), Kalb never envisioned working in 4-H or for UF/IFAS Extension in any capacity. She did, however, seek out an opportunity to be part of a 4-H camp staff one summer after graduating from high school.

She applied for camps in Florida, Kentucky and Texas. A Texas camp located in Brentwood was the first to contact her.

The camp director told Kalb one more high-ropes instructor was needed. Kalb said her thought was, “I don’t know what that is, but sure, I’ll do it.”

It was a little disconcerting to discover what a high-ropes instructor was for someone who admits she’s terrified of heights.

“I had to jump off a telephone pole,” Kalb said. “Obviously, I had a harness and stuff on. We had to do all the activities we had our kids do.”

One of those activities included zip-lining.

“That made me cry,” Kalb said. “I was not OK with that.”

She was certainly taken out of her comfort zone, but she did get to try something new — something she has encouraged the teenagers she’s interacted with as a 4-H program assistant to do.

“I’m grateful for my experiences,” Kalb said.

4-H journey takes her to Charlotte Co.

Kalb became aware of a 4-H program assistant opening at the UF/IFAS Extension Office in Charlotte County, which was where she was planning to move to because of her fiancé (now husband), Zachary. She applied and interviewed for the position.

“Five people were at a table interviewing me,” Kalb said. “It was very weird. I had never been in an interview like that before.”

It turned out to be an eventful day, which also included shopping for a wedding dress with her now mother-in-law.

“That same day, they offered me the job,” Kalb said.

Just as being a high-ropes course instructor took her out of her comfort zone, so, too, did adjusting to life in a different county. At first, it was the typical outsider trying to fit in.

“That’s how I felt in Charlotte

Tara Holtzendorf Kalb

County until I started getting to know and spend time with the volunteers, 4-H families and 4-H’ers,” Kalb said.

The biggest adjustment was working within the policies of the University of Florida, Charlotte County government and Charlotte County 4-H when it came to implementing programs.

“There’s a lot of red tape,” Kalb said. “You have to make sure that everybody is happy.”

What made Kalb happy was working with youth. She found that it was a natural fit for her and enjoyed her experience leading the Teen Leaders club.

“I grew it from five kids to 18,” Kalb said. “I was very proud of them. I love each and every one of them.”

Kalb had the chance to see a couple of the teens she worked with in Charlotte County when she attended a recent state 4-H event. One was serving on the executive board.

“I’m so proud of them,” Kalb said. “They were both really shy in the beginning.”

Besides growing the Teen Leaders club, Kalb also helped grow Charlotte County 4-H’s county events. For example, when she arrived, 10-11 youth were participating in public-speaking county events. That number increased to 21.

“It was very exciting to see how much it grew,” Kalb said. “County events have always been super important to me. Public speaking is one of my major 4-H passions. I thought it was just awesome to see kids come out of their shells.”

They not only came out of their shells; they progressed to where they were writing their own speeches for public-speaking events.

Kalb worked alongside one of her colleagues to revamp the Charlotte County 4-H record-book system in an effort “to make it more cohesive and to hopefully get more turn-ins.”

In Kalb’s first year in Charlotte, she graded 65 record books. The number of record-book participants eventually grew to more than 130.

“It was really awesome to see that many kids do it,” Kalb said.

Kalb said fundraising was an “untapped thing” in Charlotte County, but it turned out to be quite the success when she was there, thanks to simply talking to people in the community and getting the word out about 4-H. For example, some of the youth spent three to four hours outside Winn-Dixie on a weekend and raised more than $1,200.

“So many of the teens had a really good time doing it because they got to talk about their projects and what they were doing in 4-H,” Kalb said. “So many older people who lived in the community went, ‘Oh, I was in 4-H in Illinois,’ or, ‘I was in 4-H in Ohio.’ They moved (to Charlotte County) when they retired, and they didn’t know we had a 4-H program there.”

Closer to home

Kalb became aware of a couple of positions that had opened up in the Bradford County Extension Office, but she said something just told her the timing was not right to apply.

“You’ve got to listen to the little voice inside your brain that says, ‘OK. Wait a minute. Think about it.’ It will tell you when it is right,” Kalb said.

She did, however, apply for a 4-H program assistant at the Duval County Extension Office. She applied a couple of hours before the deadline and admitted she didn’t think she’d actually get the opportunity to interview for the position.

Yet she got a phone call informing her that she did get that chance. Then, she began to think that she wouldn’t actually get hired. That thought didn’t change after her virtual interview, in which she said she botched answering question regarding her familiarity with Microsoft programs.

“I don’t know what was happening in my head,” Kalb said, adding, “I answered a completely different question. It was probably because there were five people, and it was a Zoom interview.”

Kalb said part of the interview included her having to teach a lesson.

“There aren’t a lot of lessons I can do virtually, so we did chair exercises for five minutes,” she

Brown, Staples earn papers’ top honors

BY CLIFF SMELLEY

Recent Bradford High School graduate Nichelle Brown was named the top flag football player in the area by both the Gainesville Sun and the Florida Times-Union, which shouldn’t be surprising. If there was a Heisman Trophy awarded in high school flag football, she may have won that as well.

Brown, the first ever BHS athlete to be named a Times-Union All-First Coast Player of the Year, was more than just the best receiver in the area. She was tops in the entire state regardless of classification and had the most receiving yards nationally based on statistics uploaded to MaxPreps.

Bradford Head Coach John Staples, who was named the Gainesville Sun’s Coach of the Year, compared her to a dynamic player who starred for the University of Florida football team — Percy Harvin.

The Tornadoes tried to get the ball in Brown’s hands any way possible, just as the Gators tried to do with Harvin.

“It was about creating ways to get her the ball,” Staples said. “That was our offense.”

Brown, who will continue her playing career for three-time national champion Florida Gateway College in Lake City, had 2,220-plus receiving yards, 44 touchdowns (receiving and rushing) and 266 points (receiving and rushing) this past season. She had approximately 800 receiving yards more than Spruce Creek rising senior Chloe Waldo and scored 24 more points than Haines City rising senior Zebrielle Canaday.

It was also Brown and Canaday in the top two spots in the state for total touchdowns, with Brown scoring five more than Canaday.

Of Brown’s 44 touchdowns, 34 came off pass receptions. That was three more than Robinson rising junior Sarah Williams.

Nationally, Brown had approximately 500 more receiving yards than Madyson Fizer, a recent graduate of Eastridge in Rochester, New York.

Brown was second in the nation in both touchdowns and points scored. Lauren Clark, a rising junior at Crossville, Tennessee’s Stone Memorial High School, had six more touchdowns and 77 more points.

The Tornado great, who also rushed for more than 560 yards this past season, scored a total of 144 touchdowns in her four years of playing at BHS and had her number-five jersey retired.

As to what made her so productive on the field, Brown said it was due to “hard work and dedication.”

Staples was recognized as the Gainesville Sun’s top coach in the area after guiding the Tornadoes to a 14-3 record. The Tornadoes won their first-ever playoff game this year and advanced to the Region 1 championship game before losing to Florida High.

BHS, KHHS flag players receive Sun, Times-Union recognition

BY CLIFF SMELLEY

Bradford and Keystone Heights high schools each had three players earn first-team honors with the release of the Gainesville Sun’s All-Area and the Florida Times-Union All-First Coast flag football teams.

The Tornadoes’ Nichelle Brown, a recent graduate, was named the Player of the Year by both newspapers (see related story).

Rising Bradford senior Ar’Nayshia Griffin was a first-team Sun All-Area selection and a first-team All-First Coast defensive pick. She had 25 interceptions, which led Class 1A and tied her for second overall in the state regardless of classification.

Griffin, who played quarterback on offense, had approximately 3,300 yards passing, which ranked fourth in Class 1A. She had 33 touchdown passes, which ranked sixth in 1A and rushed for more than 630 yards. Her 17 total touchdowns ranked her eighth in 1A, while her 3,935 total yards were the third most in 1A.

Keystone quarterback Alee Horton, a rising junior, made the Gainesville Sun’s first team after passing for 2,328 yards — the eighth most in 1A. She was third in 1A and 10th in the state overall in rushing yards with 1,109. Horton had eight rushing touchdowns and 26 passing touchdowns, with the passing number ranking eighth in Class 1A. She compiled 3,515 total yards, which were the fifth most in 1A.

Horton received All-First Coast honorable mention.

Riley Shuford, a rising junior at Keystone, was a first-team All-First Coast selection on offense after catching 51 passes for 1,281 yards and 12 touchdowns. Her receiving-yards total was third best in Class 1A and ninth best in the state overall.

Shuford, who was named to the Gainesville Sun’s second team, also made eight interceptions on defense, which ranked 11th in Class 1A.

Recent Keystone graduate Aubre Miller was named to the Sun’s second team after catching 44 passes for 556 yards and six touchdowns.

Bradford rising senior Tatyana Brown was a second-team All-First Coast selection on defense.

Supporting local small businesses including restaurants, goods and services means investing in our present and our future:

- Keep money in the neighborhood. Locally owned businesses recirculate 70% more money back into their own local community than big box chain stores and restaurants.
- Embrace what makes us unique. Where we shop, eat, work, play and hang out makes our communities home. If we wanted to live someplace that was like everywhere else, we wouldn’t be living in this region of Florida.
- Get better service. In a local business you know the person behind the counter and they know you. They have a deeper understanding of the products and services they are selling and they take the time to serve their customers.
- Create & keep good jobs. Small local businesses are the largest employer nationally and account for the vast majority of job growth. Growing local businesses mean more jobs for residents and more taxes to invest in our own communities, churches, schools and groups.

6 receive Shirley Ann Brown Livingstone scholarships

BY CLIFF SMELLEY
cliff@bctelegraph.com

Carolyn Spooner presented six Shirley Ann Brown Livingstone Scholarships this year, with the recipients being 2025 Bradford High School graduates Kendall Cook, Anaria Early, Nivaiah Foster, Jazlyn Hamilton, Jalisa McMillian and Alysia Rentz.

The $1,000 scholarships honor the memory of Livingstone, a registered nurse who died from breast cancer at the age of 55 in 2004. The cancer went into remission several times, but the final time it returned, it had metastasized.

Livingstone, the sister of Spooner, worked until a week before her death.

Spooner, who's the director of the scholarship foundation, said it means a lot to her to award

Nivaiah Foster received a Shirley Ann Brown Livingstone Scholarship and is currently enrolled at Florida A&M University.

scholarships to students who are pursuing careers in the medical field. In presenting Shirley Ann

Brown Livingstone Scholarship certificates at Bradford High School on June 18, she told the recipients that she hopes "you'll help us find a cure (for cancer) someday."

McMillian said she wants to do her part to do just that.

"My granny also passed away from cancer, so I do want to eventually find a cure for cancer to help save other people's grannies," McMillian said, adding, "This scholarship means a lot to me because it will help me and support me in getting my nursing degree."

Cook's plans are to finish work toward her AA degree at Santa Fe College and then go into radiography. She would like to eventually attend the University of Florida.

As for her choice of radiography, Cook said she was inspired by watching those in the field when she had an injury that required MRIs and x-rays.

"I really took an interest in it," Cook said.

As for receiving the Shirley Ann Brown Livingstone Scholarship, Cook said, "It will help a lot financially so I can continue on with what I want to be and to help others."

Like Cook, Early is working toward her AA degree at Santa Fe College. Her end goal is to earn a bachelor's degree in nursing.

Since "school is not cheap," Early said receiving the scholarship will ease a lot of burdens.

"This scholarship means everything to me," Early said. Foster was unable to meet with Spooner and the other scholarship recipients at BHS because she's currently attending classes at Florida A&M University in Tallahassee. She shared a statement with the Telegraph-Times-Monitor.

"Ever since I was young, I knew I wanted to pursue nursing," Foster wrote. "When my older brother was diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes, I watched as nurses cared for him with such compassion, patience and dedication. Their support not only helped him manage his condition, but also brought comfort to our entire family."

"That experience inspired me to want to help other families the way those nurses helped mine."

Foster expressed her gratitude in receiving the scholarship and wrote that she admires the foundation's "mission of empowering young women in healthcare by providing the tools and financial support needed to succeed."

Hamilton plans to attend Georgia Southern University and certify in ultrasound technology. She wants to eventually earn a master's degree in speech-language pathology.

"This scholarship means a lot to me because I've always wanted to go into healthcare," Hamilton said. "I've always wanted to follow in my mom's footsteps because she is a Doctor of Nursing practitioner. I knew nursing was not for me, so I just knew that I wanted to follow behind her in the healthcare field."

Rentz said she's grateful to not have to worry about money as she pursues her goal.

"I plan to attend Santa Fe College to pursue radiology," she said.

In hearing from Spooner who the scholarship recipients were, BHS Principal Chris Coffey said, "You've got a good group."

With this year's recipients, Spooner has now awarded a total of 33 Shirley Ann Brown Livingstone Scholarships. She normally awards five each year, but had extra funds to do a sixth this year.

said. "I thought it was just the oddest thing in the world."

She obviously made a favorable impression because she later got a call with the job offer.

"It was like 8 a.m. on a Sunday morning," Kalb said. "I was like, 'Oh, I'm half asleep right now, but sure.' I fell back asleep."

She did eventually have more in-depth discussions about the job particulars when she was wide awake to make sure it was indeed something she wanted to accept. It was, so now she's living at home in Union County and commuting to Jacksonville.

In Duval County, Kalb works with youth who live primarily in urban areas, whereas she worked with a mixture of urban and rural youth in Charlotte County.

"They're city life. I'm not city life," Kalb said, adding, "It's out of my comfort zone — 100 percent."

Yet she likes being in the Duval County office. A big part of that is 4-H Extension Agent Grace Carter.

"She just creates this very open, calm atmosphere for 4-H, which is really hard to get in 4-H because 4-H can be so chaotic sometimes," Kalb said. "It's like you're everywhere, doing everything at one time. It's a very calm atmosphere she creates. I really love working with her and my other program assistant, Kenedi (Mills)."

Kalb enjoyed a recent trip to a state event that included 5-6 Duval County youth. Attending state events was the highlight of Kalb's participation in 4-H as a youth because of the friendships she made.

"I still have friends (from those events) now," she said. "I saw a few of them at the conference I was just at."

A busy life

A job that comes with a daily commute of two hours would seem to be enough to keep Kalb busy, but she has so much more going on in her life. That includes going to school.

Kalb, who earned her AA degree at Santa Fe College, planned to major in Agribusiness and Food Economics coming out of high school, but she said taking an economics class convinced her that major wasn't for her.

She's now working on a major in Psychology (with a minor in Criminal Justice) and plans to graduate with her bachelor's degree from the University of Central Florida in December.

Kalb was named to the Dean's List at UCF this past semester, which is pretty impressive considering she was balancing classes with starting a new job and the move that accompanied it. She and her husband are also renovating a house, with the couple living with Kalb's parents until that project's complete.

"That's a whole task. Oh, boy, I did not sign up for that," Kalb said with a laugh, adding, "I don't like DIYs or crafts, so I don't know why I thought I would like renovating a house."

She has also started a book club in Union County called Swamp and Story Society. The club meets monthly after reading three books in different genres.

Kalb, who had been part of a book club when she lived in Charlotte County, likes reading and discovered that one of her Duval County likes to read as well.

"I was like, 'I should really start a book club.' It's only me, her, my aunt and a few others who come every now and then," Kalb said, "but it's super fun. I really enjoy it."

Though she's set to graduate from UCF later this year, that won't be the end of school. She plans to work toward a master's degree, so Kalb will remain pretty busy for a while.

"I kind of just go with the flow," she said. "Whatever needs to be done gets done."

Kalb said she would like to continue working for an Extension office, either as a 4-H agent or as a small-farms agent.

The hard part is making a final decision on what direction she wants to go in.

"I want to do everything. That's the problem," Kalb said.

"I've got to pick one."

4-H skills are useful

Whatever the future holds for Kalb, you can be sure that she'll benefit from the skills she learned in 4-H as a youth. A hard-work ethic was instilled in her as a 4-H youth and she has already put public-speaking, interviewing and resume-making skills to use.

Cooking skills have come in handy, too, as she has started a cooking club in Duval County.

Kalb said the SMART (specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, time-bound) goals that were a part of 4-H record books have been a big part of her adult life.

"People hate doing the SMART goals in the record books, but they do help," Kalb said. "Writing down your goals helps. You can see one thing and try to drive yourself toward that one thing, that one goal. Whenever you start not writing down a goal, you say, 'Oh, I'm just thinking about it.' Then you start thinking about all the other things that might come after that goal. It can be very overwhelming."

Kalb has a goal of ultimately working in Bradford County or Union County, if the opportunity arises (and the little voice inside her brain tells her the time is right), but for now she's enjoying her current job.

"I definitely love the Duval County people," Kalb said.

McFarland is 1st-team all-conference

BY CLIFF SMELLEY
cliff@bctelegraph.com

Dakota State University junior softball player Hannah McFarland earned first-team All-North Star Athletic Association honors for the second straight year, capping a season in which she led her team in multiple categories and set a school record for career stolen bases.

McFarland, a 2022 Bradford High School graduate, batted a team-high .357 for the Madison, South Dakota school and also led Dakota State in on-base percentage (.439), hits (46), doubles (13), walks (18), runs scored (34) and stolen bases (24 on 24 attempts). Her number of stolen bases ranked her second in the NSAA.

In three seasons, McFarland has 65 stolen bases, putting her ahead of Lori Olen (2004-07) and Carrington Entringer (2022-23), who each had 53.

McFarland, who was a second-team NSAA selection her freshman year, earned a Golden Glove Award for her defense for the second straight year. The outfielder had only one error, finishing with a 9.89 fielding percentage.

Some of McFarland's notable games this past season included:

—3 for 3 with a double, three runs scored and a stolen base in a 9-1 win over York (Nebraska) on Feb. 21.

—3 for 4 with a double, two runs scored and a stolen base in a 9-4 loss to Hastings (Nebraska) on Feb. 22.

—3 for 5 with two doubles, two runs scored and a stolen base in an 8-7 loss to Morningside (Iowa) on March 2.

—2 for 3 with a double, an RBI and a stolen base in a 17-1 loss to Bethany (Kansas).

—2 for 3 with two runs scored in an 11-0 win over Waldorf (Iowa) on March 18.

—2 for 4 with two runs scored and three stolen bases in a 14-10 loss to Waldorf on March 18.

—Two RBI in a 12-2 loss to Valley City State (North Dakota) on March 28.

—3 for 4 with a double, two RBI, a run scored and a stolen base in a 13-5 loss to Mayville State (North Dakota) on April 19.

—2 for 3 with a double and a run scored in a 10-2 loss to Bellevue (Nebraska) on April 25.

—2 for 5 with an RBI and three runs scored in a 10-6 win over Bellevue on April 25.

—2 for 3 with a double, a run scored and a stolen base in an 8-2 loss to Bellevue on May 1.

—2 for 2 with a run scored and a stolen base in a 5-2 loss to Valley City State (North Dakota) on May 2.
